LEGISLATIVE MESSAGE

OF

THE HONORABLE DAN K. MOORE

GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh, North Carolina

February 4, 1965

INTRODUCTION

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly of North Carolina:

We are convened here today at a moment in the history of our state when the burden of our responsibilities as elected officials is surpassed only by our opportunities for achievement in the public interest. At this moment, North Carolina stands on the threshold of greatness. The impetus to move into this period of promise must come from you and me working together with all the people of North Carolina.

Each of you is in a position of high public trust. I know and respect the qualities of character and performance that have led to your election and reelection to these positions of service. Having served in this great legislative body, I appreciate the complexity of the many important tasks that will confront you.

Yesterday each of you swore to serve our state faithfully and to the best of your ability. I know each of you is dedicated to carrying out that oath of office. You can make this one of the greatest General Assemblies, and together we can do much good for North Carolina and our fellow citizens. As a lifelong Democrat, I am proud of the heritage of good government which the Democratic Party has made possible through Legislatures of the past sixty years.

I look forward to working closely with each of you in a constructive, cooperative effort to meet our mutual responsibilities. Together we must grasp the opportunities which are here for North Carolina. With the public interest ever foremost, you can count on my complete and untiring cooperation.

During the last year, I have traveled the length and breadth of our state—visited in each of your counties, each of your districts. I have talked at length with our people and have listened to what they have said. My inaugural address reflected the spirit of our people.

My program is designed to reflect, perpetuate and strengthen that spirit. It is my firm belief that this program will move North Carolina closer to the goal of a more abundant life for every citizen. This program will help us to realize the opportunities for achievement that are ours today as never before in history.

PUBLIC EDUCATION

If North Carolina stands on the threshold of an era of unprecedented prosperity, as we have every reason to believe it does, then the path we must follow to achieve that goal is education. It is the first responsibility of state government and it must be given attention commensurate with that responsibility by this General Assembly.

Much progress has been made in education in recent years. Even now plans are being made across the state to utilize fully the $100 million school bond issue for capital improvements which the General Assembly authorized, which I advocated and the people approved. But, North Carolina is still behind in great many areas of education, and now we must take specific steps to catch up.

I recommend that this General Assembly:

First, reduce class size by three in grades one through three, and by one in grades four through twelve.

Second, provide a salary increase of 5 per cent for public school instructional personnel for the first year of the biennium and 5 per cent for the second.

Third, provide additional guidance counsel and remedial teachers.

Fourth, restore the continuing contract for our teachers.

Fifth, extend the term of employment for public school principals.

Sixth, relieve students and parents of the burden of paying necessary school and book fees and initiate a study to find ways of eliminating unnecessary fees, and

Seventh, strengthen our school lunch program to insure that hunger is banished forever from the classrooms of North Carolina.

North Carolina should spare no effort to reduce the drop-out problem. We must expand the vocational training program for both young people and adults. Special classes must be provided for the emotionally ill and the retarded and for the gifted. The first responsibility, however, is to the average student; and the second is to the teacher on whom the success of any educational program rests.

We must appraise and reappraise the various experimental programs now being conducted in education. If in the judgment of our state education officials, these experiments show promise, they will be continued. If not, they should be discontinued and new avenues sought to meet the growing challenge of education.

I strongly oppose any federal control in the North Carolina public school system. In these changing times, however, we recognize that the federal government has involved itself in public education. There are now new laws and regulations which will change the way many of our schools are operated. As much as we dislike these changes, I remind you of our state's proud heritage as a peaceful and law-abiding people. The law must be obeyed.

HIGHER EDUCATION

North Carolina must act now to insure that its every son and daughter with a capacity for college work is given the incentive and the opportunity to attend a college of exceptional quality. This is a goal of my administration.

Our state-supported institutions of higher learning must be expanded physically and academically. I am deeply concerned about the capital improvement needs of our state colleges and The University. This is a matter which deserves your careful consideration, and I expect to speak directly to this problem in my budget message to follow at a later date.

Our facilities for vocational training, our Industrial Education Centers and our Technical Institutes must continue to expand. Full support must be given to the Community College. We must be concerned with and we must give every possible encouragement to the private and church-related institutions that have contributed so much to the well-being of North Carolina.

The University of North Carolina is today and will remain the single most important factor in higher education in our state. I am convinced of the value of the One University concept, and I will vigorously oppose any effort to deprive this state of the positive benefits of consolidation. We must strengthen rather than weaken the total University at Greensboro, at Raleigh, and at Chapel Hill. In addition, I strongly recommend that the fourth campus of the University be located at Charlotte as proposed by the University Trustees and approved by the State Board of Higher Education.

I do not believe that the Trustees of the University are properly apportioned at this time. I recommend that the General Assembly appoint a commission to study the role of the Trustees in our University System, the method of their selection and the representation of the various campuses on the Board of Trustees. In view of the campus which I recommend be added at Charlotte, this is the logical time to re-examine and improve our system of trustees. Meanwhile, when you consider the selection of trustees at this session, every effort should be made to equalize representation more fully.

My position on the Speaker Ban Law is well known. As important as this law is and as important as the proposed name change for North Carolina State is, neither issue should not be allowed to weaken our Consolidated University. Both should be settled promptly. The welfare of the University should be your overriding concern in approaching these and related matters touching our University System.

According to the State Board of Higher Education, there will be more qualified students applying for admission to institutions of higher learning this year than can be admitted. Some applicants must be turned away because of inadequate facilities. A deepening of this crisis in higher education appears certain to develop in the years immediately ahead. This is a matter of great importance to the General Assembly and I ask that you give this problem your full consideration.

I am asking the State Board of Higher Education to give the General Assembly and me for our joint consideration its recommendations on the request from our institutions of higher learning for new facilities. In view of the overwhelming requests for capital improvements, there must be clear-cut priorities established which are based on goals defined by our State Board of Higher Education.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION

In the interest of economy, efficiency and integrity in the building of highways, I recommend to you a reorganization of the State Highway Commission. It is not necessary that I go into all of the changes involved. A bill incorporating the details of my proposal will be introduced into this General Assembly.

Let me say, however, it will provide for a Chairman who also will have the title of Director of Highways, and who will give his full time to his duties. Under regulations previously adopted by the Commission, he will have the authority of the Commission when it is not in session.

In my proposed reorganization, the Commission will be reduced to fourteen members. They will serve on a per diem basis and will fairly represent every section of the state, but will subscribe to the statewide concept of our highway system.

There will be a State Highway Administrator responsible to the Commission who shall be a career official and have charge of the administrative operations of the Commission.

There also will be a Director of Secondary Roads, who representing the Commission, will act in close cooperation with boards of county commissioners throughout the state.

The bill will provide penalties and forfeiture of public office if any commissioner or employee of the Commission shall use his official position for his own private interest. There will be an additional provision to make it unlawful for anyone dealing with the Highway Commission to promise or offer anything of value to any member of the Highway Commission or its employees for the purpose of influencing the action of such commissioner or employee.

The purpose of this reorganization will be to pinpoint clearly responsibility for the handling of highway funds, as well as every phase of highway activity, and as far as possible, to remove the construction of highways from the blight of self-interest or political favoritism. In view of the large sums that will be spent during the next four years for highways, it is essential, in my opinion, that this reorganization be adopted. It combines some of the best phases of all the reorganizations of the past and will help to guarantee that the people will get a dollar's worth for roads for every dollar spent.

If this General Assembly agrees with me and adopts this plan for reorganization, I pledge to you and to the people that I will appoint to this Commission men of outstanding experience, ability and integrity, who, I believe, will be true to their trust. North Carolina deserves and must have such leadership on its Highway Commission.

ROAD BONDS

To meet North Carolina's ever expanding road construction needs, I recommend that you authorize a $300 million road bond issue, subject to a vote of the people, to be spent over a five-year period. Of this $300 million, I recommend that $150 million be spent on the primary system, that $75 million be used for highways within our municipalities, and that $75 million be used for secondary roads. Where it would appear to be more economical, I urge that these roads be constructed by free enterprise upon the basis of competitive bids.

I recommend that this bond issue be financed within the present tax structure utilizing the one cent per gallon tax which has financed the secondary road bond issue of 1949. This tax can adequately provide for the $300 million bond issue after the 1949 bond issue is provided for in 1966. Until this is accomplished, I recommend that the debt service for the new bonds be derived from current revenues of the Highway Fund.

The legislation to be introduced will spell out as nearly as possible how these funds will be spent in each county and each municipality of the state. If the General Assembly authorizes this bond issue, the referendum should be held promptly. We need to get under way on this program which will go far toward providing North Carolina with the modern highway system which we must have to serve our people and our expanding economy.

FISCAL POLICY

We must keep our state fiscally sound. I subscribe to the doctrine of the balanced budget. I endorse the record of our state extending over many decades for economy, efficiency and integrity in fiscal affairs. Our management of the public debt of the state has earned for us an AAA rating—the highest rating for state bonds. It will be a major objective of this administration to preserve our high credit standing by continuing the sound fiscal policies that have generally been characteristic of our state since the adoption of the Executive Budget Act in 1925.

Adequate tax revenues are necessary if the state is to maintain present levels of service and meet the requiremnts of normally expanding services in the future. However, there is every indication that our growing economy will provide the necessary revenue to meet our state's needs. Therefore, in keeping with a promise made by me frequently during the past year, I oppose any increase in taxes.

Taxes in North Carolina are already high enough, and if it should appear that revenues are coming in at levels in excess of budget needs, I would urge that the General Assembly give serious consideration: (1) to amending the state income tax law to increase the exemption allowed each dependent from the present $300 to $600; and (2) to providing exemptions for North Carolinians who are 65 and older that are comparable with the provisions of the federal income tax law.

These measures will provide tax relief where it is most needed—among young couples with children and among our older people.

Since the relief here recommended is desirable, we will watch with interest the monthly reports of revenue collections made by the Revenue Department, which by April should forecast with reasonable certainty the size of the surplus as of June 30th of this year and the levels of revenue that may be expected in the next biennium.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Industrial development is an important key to providing more jobs, more job opportunities and a better way of life for all our people. Creation of new local industries, expansion of existing industries and the location in North Carolina of new out-of-state industries will be major goals of my administration. The direct result will be a higher per capita income for our people.

Through positive active leadership the State Department of Conservation and Development must keep North Carolina in the forefront of modern industrial growth and development. As Governor, I shall give my full support and personal attention to every aspect of the state's program. I shall call on leaders of business, industry, commerce and the professions to lend their talents and know-how to increase our rate of development and improve the scope and quality of our search for productive industrial prospects.

We must maintain the sound policy of offering new industry the same benefits and services now available to our existing industries which have contributed so much to our economic growth and prosperity.

There is a definite need for a closer, more effective relationship between the commerce and industry division and all communities and counties in the state. I am giving careful study to ways and means of locating trained staff members of commerce and industry across the state to assist more directly in the economic development of each county.

While I doubt any additional funds will be needed, if it develops later that they are, I will ask for your support to accomplish this grass-roots program.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Our natural resources are a sacred trust passed from one generation to the next as a foundation upon which to build a better state. We are fortunate in the abundance of our resources. We have done well in beginning to conserve and develop these gifts of nature. The job is not completed, however, and our programs must be maintained or accelerated.

In forestry, we have set the pace in the southeast but the job is far from finished. Our mineral resources must be more fully developed. Our park system is one of the finest in the country, but it has room for improvement. Recreational needs deserve your full consideration. There is still work to be done to protect our Outer Banks and other coastal areas. Our soils and our wildlife must be conserved. Our water resources are becoming more and more important. We must maintain our efforts to insure adequate supplies of clean, usable water for the future.

HEALTH AND WELFARE

The health and the welfare of our people are major concerns of this administration. State Agencies with responsibilities in these fields are to be commended for their past work. One of our most urgent needs is for more trained personnel in all health and welfare agencies.

There are the underprivileged young, the infirm, the handicapped and the elderly among us who cannot provide for their own physical needs. These people must be assisted by our Department of Public Welfare, and wherever possible, they must be rehabilitated for their own good and for the good of North Carolina.

All of us have heard there is misuse of public welfare programs. These incidents are few in comparison with the good being done. But, we do have a responsibility to correct any misuse. Much of this can be accomplished though careful administration, and I will work closely with welfare officials to bring this about.

Protection of the public health is an essential service of state government working in cooperation with local governments. I recommend general support for the program of the State Board of Health and other health-related agencies and institutions. These and other programs supported by the State Medical Society, and private medical centers throughout the state will receive my personal attention.

The mentally ill must have our special consideration. Much has been done for these people in recent years, but we still have much to do. We must carry mental health treatment to the community level. I recommend that we provide the necessary facilities to meet the needs of all our mentally ill.

Mental retardation is a problem of deep concern to everyone. Some mentally retarded children below the age of six have been denied treatment and custodial care in state facilities. This policy should be changed to provide help for the children of parents who desire such assistance.

Alcoholism is a disease which demands our immediate attention. Over 50,000 of our fellow citizens are classified as alcoholics. Considerable research is being done in this area. I urge you to study this problem and to utlilize all available knowledge on the cause and prevention of this disease. I recommend the immediate establishment of two additional alcoholic rehabilitation centers—one in the eastern part of the state and the other in the western part.

I also ask you to give special attention to the varied and complex health problem that confront our older people. They have given and are giving much of themselves to the building of this state, and we have the responsibility and the privilege of working to solve their problems in the health field and elsewhere.

CORRECTION AND REHABILITATION

The administration of justice demands that punishment be given where deserved; however, rehabilitation must be the guiding principle of our prison, parole and probation agencies.

Our rehabilitation program must be strengthened and special attention must be given to the young offender, the alcoholic, and the mentally or emotionally disturbed person. Each inmate must be provided with more effective guidance. He must be given the incentive to be a more responsible and productive citizen.

Proper guidance and incentive also must be given our boys and girls who have violated the law. Outstanding progress has been made in our correction and training institutions. But nothing should be left undone to give these youngsters the opportunity to learn, to develop, and to re-enter society as responsible young men and women.

An important part of our penal program is the supervision of those on parole and probation. North Carolina has been a pioneer and leader in these fields. The state has reclaimed a great number of lives and gained considerable economic benefit because of these programs. They deserve our continued support.

COURT IMPROVEMENT

Implementation of the recent changes in the Judicial Article of the Constitution is important to the proper administration of justice. The 1963 General Assembly, as you know, established the Courts Commission to draft the necesary implementing legislation.

As a former judge and as a citizen, I have an abiding interest in the improvement of our system of courts. Therefore, I endorse in general the recommendations of the Courts Commission, especially those to create a uniform system of lower courts and uniform court costs.

LAW AND ORDER

As I stated in my inaugural message, no one is above or beyond the law. As Governor, I shall not tolerate violence or lawlessness anywhere in North Carolina. We shall insist that the law be impartially enforced without fear or favor.

HUMAN RELATIONS

Continued progress in human relations is essential. Substantial progress has been made in recent years. Some feel we have moved too fast; others, that we have moved too slowly.

I believe and sincerely hope that we in North Carolina have come to a time of calm and sensible reappraisal in this area. North Carolinians generally have become more rational and more tolerant of the views of others and they have a better understanding of the reasons for these views.

However, at a time of reappraisal is not a time for complacency. The problems have not passed. They will require our constant and sincere attention in the days ahead. I am initiating a study of the role state government is playing in this area through such agencies as the Good Neighbor Council. If these programs are meeting the need, they should be continued. If not, we will find new programs.

I do not foresee the necessity for specific legislation in the area of human relations, but I do welcome any advice and suggestions you may have. Your interest and mine are identical—protecting the rights of all North Carolinians and insuring that every citizen has an opportunity to develop his talents and use these talents to help us build a better North Carolina.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture has time-honored place in the life and the economy of North Carolina. If our state is to move across this threshold of greatness where we now stand, our agriculture and related industry will have to provide much of the impetus. For this reason, my administration is going to give vigorous attention to all of the opportunities, as well as the problems, of agriculture.

Tobacco, our major crop, is being threatened as never before, both by over production and by a health scare. We are going to spare no effort to resolve the difficulties that confront our 165,000 tobacco farm families, and in turn, that large segment of our economy geared to tobacco. And, I include here the 40,000 North Carolinians who earn their livelihood from the manufacture of tobacco products.

The over production of tobacco has forced drastic cuts in acreage allotments. The emphasis on ever-increasing production per acre has seriously affected the quality and usability of our tobacco. The existing federal acreage allotment program is apparently inadequate as a means of controlling production and Congress is now considering changes in it.

I recommend this General Asembly take immediate action to consider this problem of over production and changes in the acreage allotment program being recommended by our tobacco leadership. After study, I urge you to make your views known. As Governor, I will work closely with our congressional delegation to secure necessary legislation. I need the advice and help of the General Assembly and the people in dealing with this problem.

In view of the recent health scare, I recommend that you consider the advisability of further state research efforts in this area.

I also urge you to support diversification of our agriculture with every means at your command. Animal agriculture has a great future in North Carolina and I hope you will promote it as diligently as we do our important money crops. My administration will encourage the production, processing, packaging and marketing of a wider variety of farm products with special emphasis on food commodities. The present offers a golden opportunity for North Carolina to move more into the market for processed foods and we intend to make the most of this opportunity.

In all our efforts to take advantage of agriculture opportunities, I intend to use the experience and programs of our State Department of Agriculture and North Carolina State and the various farm organizations. My cooperation with them will be coordinated through my Special Assistant for Farm Affairs, with the advice of my Agricultural Advisory Committee.

BANKING, TRADE AND COMMERCE

Operating within the scope of present law, our banks are meeting their responsibility in the economic development of our state. They are able to earn reasonable profits within the framework of the existing laws. Therefore, I would oppose any effort to increase the legal interest rate in North Carolina.

North Carolina must be alert to the fact that American business is highly mobile and has become more and more interstate in nature. At the present time there is no one body of law governing commercial transactions in this state. As a result, our businessmen, their customers and suppliers in this and other states are often handicapped by the lack of uniformity of commerical law between North Carolina and other jurisdictions. In view of this need, I request that you give careful consideration to enactment of the Uniform Commerical Code.

UTILITIES

North Carolina is very fortunate in the quality of its utilities and in the dedication to public responsibility so frequently evidenced by the people who control those utilities. I do not think we could find a better example of this dedication than the unselfish manner in which the private power companies and electric cooperatives recently resolved their differences.

This settlement was, of course, in the best interest of the parties concerned, but much more significantly, it was in the interest of this state and its future. All who had a part in these deliberations are to be commended. It is my sincere hope that their recommendations will meet the approval of the General Assembly as well as the muncipalities and others who have an interest.

All of our utilities should be encouraged to expand their facilities wherever it is necessary to provide more electric power, more gas, more telephones, and better transportation services for our dynamic, growing state. Our Utilities Commission should be constituted and staffed so as to protect fully the public interest and all consumers.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

The fields of science, research and technology are increasingly important to North Carolina. We have an advantage in these fields. However, we must act now to utilize this advantage to the fullest. My administration accepts the responsibility of providing the leadership that will coordinate established industrial research with related programs in the Research Triangle and in our universities.

STATE PORTS

The State Ports at Wilmington and Morehead City are of increasing importance to all of North Carolina. This is particularly true in view of prospects for the developing phosphate industry in North Carolina. They provide an outlet to world markets for our farmers, manufacturers, processors and producers of raw materials. They put us very much in the import and export business. I urge the General Assembly to take the necessary action to develop further these facilities so they may be utilized more fully and effectively.

EMPLOYMENT AND JOB OPPORTUNITY

The primary purpose of our efforts in industrial development and agriculture, in business development and research and other economic activity is to raise our per capita income. We want everyone to have a chance to make his own way in a competitive, changing society. We want all North Carolinians to enjoy a full, abundant life.

Our state has been blessed with stable and productive labor—management relations. During my administration, I will work to maintain this record. I believe every man and woman should be free to join or not join a union. Unions have contributed substantially through the years to improving the lot of the working man. I do feel, however, that unions have an obligation to develop programs that will attract members voluntarily. Our right-to-work laws should be retained.

MINIMUM WAGE

I favor fair and adequate wages for all North Carolinians. I would favor raising the minimum wage to one dollar per hour provided present exemptions are maintained and provided that marginal jobs and businesses would not be eliminated.

I recommend you make a thorough study of the situation before any change is proposed in our minimum wage law.

FEDERAL-STATE PROGRAMS

It is encouraging that the new federal-state programs such as the Appalachia Bill and the Economic Opportunity Act place strong emphasis on the role and responsibility of state government.

We must be prepared to use these federal programs wisely for the benefit of our people. This will require careful planning, competent staff and the full cooperation of local government and others concerned. As the state needs are clarified in the coming months, I shall ask your consideration and support for additional state funds or state programs if they are required to implement new federal legislation.

STATE EMPLOYEES

An important factor in the operation of economical and efficient state government is qualified, experienced, dedicated personnel. North Carolina has been and is today fortunate in having such employees. To insure this quality of personnel, it is necessary to provide more adequate compensation for our employees.

In the interest of holding and attracting well qualified personnel and in recognition of the rise in the cost of living and the quality of past services, I recommend a ten per cent pay increase for all state employees subject to the Personnel Act. I further recommend that a study be made of per diem allowances, travel compensation, and longevity pay provisions to ascertain if they are adequate.

I am confident that state employees will cooperate in seeking to improve efficiency in state government. Each employee must set a personal goal of giving a day's work for a day's pay. Every department and agency can seek ways of improving its own performance.

As one example, I recommend the General Assembly closely review the new state positions created in recent years and those being requested this year. I am told there are now two thousand job vacancies in state government and that some of these have been unfilled for some time. I urge your careful consideration of this matter and the elimination of any of these positions that are unnecessary.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

North Carolina has made tremendous progress in many areas. This has not been true in the area of highway safety, however. We have failed to curb the deaths, injuries and property damage on our highways.

In 1964, highway accidents killed 1,575 people in North Carolina. This was an increase of 194 persons over the year 1963. There were injured on our highways 50,000 people. There were 80,164 motor vehicle accidents. On our highways there was economic loss reported in the amount of $283,500,000. This amounts to one person being killed on our highways every five hours; one person being injured every eleven minutes; one accident occurring every six minutes; and an economic loss to our state of $776,000 a day.

These problems have outgrown any state agency. I propose to make highway safety a direct responsibility of the Governor's Office. The 1963 General Assembly created the Governor's Coordinating Committee on Highway Safety. The purpose of this committee was to bring together all existing governmental agencies and others to discuss and find ways to make our highways safer.

This committee has already met in my office and as a result of this conference I have asked the State Highway Commission to have its Traffic Engineering Department immediately make a thorough re-analysis of all our accident locations. This analysis will cover our entire 72,000 mile highway system. There is already under way a study to determine the location and type of sub-standard and non-uniform traffic signal installations.

I have directed the State Highway Patrol to redouble its efforts to enforce motor vehicle laws vigorously, fairly and impartially. The Highway Patrol also has been directed to concentrate its manpower and equipment on our public highways and roads. There will be a re-examination of administrative procedure which might be eliminated or revised to permit more active patrolling of the highways.

I urge all of our courts to cooperate in the program to halt death, injury and destruction of property on our public highways and roads. I now ask the judges and prosecuting attorneys of the various courts to try to plan their dockets to allow troopers to spend as much time as possible on the highways.

In the near future I want to come back before this General Assembly to make specific recommendations on legislative changes or new laws which we feel necessary to curb highway bloodshed. Today, however, I have one recommendation: I recommend that you enact a periodic automobile inspection law. Studies indicate that a reasonable motor vehicle inspection statute can bring an immediate reduction in the number of motor vehicle accidents.

If I were to call upon any person to lend me his total time and energy to prevent the death of another human being, I believe that he would immediately volunteer his time and ability. If I were to ask any member of this General Assembly to join with me to save one life, I believe you would do so gladly. What I am really asking this General Assembly to do is join with me in saving thousands of lives.

I now call upon the members of this General Assembly, every state employee, every person connected with the courts of this state and most of all, every person in North Carolina, to lend me their aid and their assistance to stop this needless and awful toll. When the people of this state demand that we form a climate for highway safety, we will succeed in stopping death and destruction on our highways.

If you will go into the halls of any hospital in this state, you will find beds filled with human beings who are maimed and broken for life because of traffic accidents. And, when we consider the toll of the dead which continues even as I speak to you, I think you will agree that insofar as this problem is concerned, the hour is indeed late.

The State of North Carolina has more activities, more programs, and more services than I can possibly mention or discuss in this message. Any omission or failure to mention one of these services does not mean that I think any less of its importance or its assigned responsibility in state government. In this message I have attempted to outline those major areas in which my administration will attempt to make primary contributions during the next four years. I also shall have additional messages which I may submit for your consideration during this session.

It is our joint responsibility to carry forward programs and services which are of lasting value to the people of North Carolina, to nurture them and see that they obtain the financial support which they must have. There are always hard appraisals to be made in many basic areas of state service. It is our inescapable responsibility to ask questions, to re-examine existing programs and to determine what value they may have for the next two years, and in the years beyond. To carry out my job as Governor, I shall seek the best advice I can find, always placing the public interest foremost among all considerations.

Again I say, North Carolina stands at this moment on the threshold of greatness, looking toward an era of unprecedented prosperity and growth. To meet the challenge of 1965 and the years ahead, each of us must contribute the best we have to offer. With your understanding, your guidance and your support, we can realize this dream for a greater North Carolina.

It is also my hope that every man and woman in our state will share in this endeavor. We want them to feel that they can make a contribution, no matter how small, to the building of a better North Carolina.

With the help of Divine Guidance, we shall build a great and good community, representing the hopes, the dreams and the aspirations of all our people. Let us begin that task with confidence and faith in the great state we are privileged to serve."

But the House may, by consent of a majority of the members present, suspend the operation of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House, or the Committee on Rules may bring in a special rule that shall be applicable to the debate on any bill.

Rule 11. READING OF PAPERS. When there is a call for the reading of a paper which has been read in the House, and there is objection to such reading, the question shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the House present.

Rule 12. GENERAL DECORUM. (a) The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum.

(b) Decency of speech shall be observed and personal reflection carefully avoided.

(b) When a motion is made it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.

(c) After a motion has been stated by the Speaker or read by the Speaker or Clerk it shall be in possession of the House, but may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member, shall be in possession of the House, and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

Rule 14. MOTIONS, ORDER OF PRECEDENCE. (a) When in order and every motion is before the House, the question stands as follows:

Previous question

To adjourn

To lay on the table

To postpone indefinitely

To postpone to a day certain

To commit

To amend an amendment

To amend

To substitute

To pass the bill

(b) When a question is under debate, the following motions only shall be in order, and they shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged:

1. To adjourn

2. To lay on the table

3. To postpone indefinitely

4. To postpone to a day certain

5. To commit

6. To amend

No motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to amend, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

Rule 15. MOTION TO ADJOURN. (a) A motion to adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate, and shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

Rule 16. MOTION TO TABLE. (a) A motion to table shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to table shall be decided without a debate.

(c) A motion to table a bill shall constitute a motion to table the bill and all amendments thereto.

(d) A motion to table an amendment sent up from the floor shall not be construed as a motion to table the principal bill or any other amendment which has been offered thereto, and if such motion is carried, only the amendment shall lie upon the table.

Rule 17. MOTION TO RECONSIDER. (a) When a motion has been once made and decided in the affirmative or negative, it is in order for any member of the majority to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or succeeding legislative day, unless it may have subsequently passed the Senate; PROVIDED, that unless the vote by which the motion was originally decided was taken by a call of the ayes and noes, any member may move to reconsider.

(b) A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider a motion tabling a motion to reconsider, which shall require a two-thirds vote.

Rule 18. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely. A motion to postpone indefinitely is always in order except when a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table is before the House; however, after one motion to postpone indefinitely has been decided, another motion to postpone indefinitely shall not be allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted on again during the session, except upon a two-thirds vote.

Rule 20. Form and Effect of Previous Question. (a) The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question now be put?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the "main question" is on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration, including all pending amendments. If amendments are pending, the question shall be taken upon such amendments in inverse order.

(b) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments and debate, except the motion to adjourn made prior to the determination of the previous question. Should the motion to adjourn be made prior to the determination of the previous question the House will vote first on the motion to adjourn and then, if the motion to adjourn fails, the members will vote on the call for the previous question.

(c) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate.

Rule 23. Voting by Division. Any member may call for a division of the members upon the question before the result of the vote has been announced. Rule 24. Roll Call Vote. (a) Before a question is put, any member may call for the ayes and noes; and if the call is sustained by one fifth of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes upon a roll call vote, taken alphabetically.

(b) Every member who is in the hall of the House when the question is put shall give his vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless the House for special reasons shall excuse him, and no application to be excused from voting or to explain a vote shall be entertained unless made before the call of the roll.

Rule 25. Voting by Absentees. (a) No member shall vote on any question when he was not present when the question was put by the Speaker, except by the consent of the House.

(b) If any member is necessarily absent on temporary business of the House when a vote is taken upon any question, upon entering the House he shall be permitted, on request, to vote, provided that the result not be affected thereby.

(c) When a member who is present is paired with an absent member, he shall, when his name is called on a roll call vote, announce the pair, which shall be recorded by the Clerk.

His Excellency, Governor Moore, makes the following address to the Joint Session.

THE BUDGET MESSAGE

THE HONORABLE DAN K. MOORE

GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mr. Presideint, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the General Assembly of North Carolina:

It is my responsibility as Governor to give you my recommendations and comments on the 1965-67 State Budget as proposed by Governor Terry Sanford and the Advisory Budget Commission. As you know, the General Statutes require the outgoing Governor to prepare and submit budget recommendations to the General Assembly, and, thus, you understand that this budget is not the work of my Administration. It is my duty to advise you on how I think the budget can and should meet the needs of our people for the next two years.

Since I delivered my Legislative Message on February 4, I have made an intensive study of the entire budget. I have spent many hours with budget and fiscal officials. The time so spent, in my opinion, will considerably lessen your labors in arriving at a proper budget.

In addition, I have considered many budget requests and proposals which are not included in this present budget. A great deal of my time has been devoted to listening and talking with legislators, and a wide range of the people representing public schools, higher education, health, welfare, economic development, highways, utilities, transportation, communication, and many other areas of state governmental service. I was impressed with the genuine concern and the sincere interest of these people who seek to promote many and varied programs and projects. I share most of their concerns and recognize the many unmet needs which were presented.

We as elected officials are confronted with the task of constructing a balanced state budget which, in our judgment, will make the greatest contribution to our state for the next two years within available revenues. As you know, I campaigned vigorously for this office with the full understanding that I would not recommend any tax increases. Many of you did likewise in your campaigns for the General Assembly. Therefore, my recommendations are made with the belief that there will be no new taxes enacted by this General Assembly.

At the same time, in view of the very heavy demands upon all available tax resources, I must reluctantly conclude and recommend that you not make any tax reductions at this session. We will need every tax dollar available to meet the genuine needs for state governmental services during the next two years.

I have been impressed with the vigorous and vocal support which the advocates of education, welfare, etc., give to their causes. We must remember that economic wealth must be created, through the efforts of our people, before it produces the tax revenues we need to pay for increased state spending and services. I hope that all advocates of more services will support with equal vigor all local, county and state efforts to develop new and expanded industries, more productive businesses, diversified agriculture and other enterprises.

If you agree with me that taxes should not be increased, then it is clear that firm priorities must be followed in the construction of our 1965-67 budget. We may not wish to choose between many good and worthy programs. It is not easy to say that one program deserves more attention than another, and yet, that is exactly what we must do. The results of your deliberations in adopting the budget will not fully satisfy the requirements of all state agencies and institutions, but it is your responsibility to determine how available funds can be most wisely spent at this time. I have every confidence in your ability to do the job. I shall help you in any way that I can.

My message is an attempt to assist in your deliberations by giving you, upon the best advise available, my major program recommendations. I also shall give you the best available estimate of the amount of budgetary resources which I think will be available for you to appropriate in 1965-67.

It is my hope that you will be able, through the maintenance of sound fiscal policies, to move forward towards the realization of our goals. All constructive legislation is a product of compromise, but the reaching of a consensus through give and take does not mean that we surrender our goals.

Before I outline my specific recommendations, I would like to express appreciation to the General Assembly for its prompt and thorough consideration of legislation which will authorize a $300 million road bond issue, subject to the vote of the people, and which will enable my Administration to reorganize the State Highway Commission. May I also commend you for selecting Charlotte College as the next campus of the Consolidated University of North Carolina. I think this expansion will mean much for North Carolina in the years ahead.

After careful consideration of the recommended budget and the estimated revenues which will be available for the next biennium, I recommend that you take these specific steps to meet the most pressing needs of the public schools.

As the first step, I recommend that class size be reduced by three students in grades one, two and three. Motivation for learning must be instilled in a child during his first school years, and this motivation and early training can best be provided in smaller classes. Therefore, I recommend that an additional 1,472 new teachers be placed in our first three grades, at a cost of $16,101,065, which includes retirement, social security and sick leave. The "B" Budget recommendation would have reduced class size by one student in all eight elementary grades at a cost of $11,503,868. Thus, my recommendation would require only an additional $4,597,197 over the budget recommendations proposed.

This reduction in classroom load by three in the first three grades will be a great benefit to our school children in their most formative years, enabling our teachers to give more individual attention to the needs of each child.

If revenues should increase beyond present estimates, I would recommend that the General Assembly seriously consider reducing the number of students per teacher by one for grades four through eight, as recommended in the present "B" Budget. This would provide 637 additional new teachers at a cost of $6,972,552, which includes retirement, social security and sick leave.

As the second step, I recommend salary increases for public school instructional personnel who are paid from the nine months' school fund, at the rate of 5 per cent, to be effective July 1, 1965, at a cost for the biennium of $24,823,455. I recommend an additional 5 per cent increase, to be effective for the second year of the biennium, at an additional cost to the nine months' school fund of $12,499,930. The total cost of both these increases for the biennium, to be paid from the nine months' school fund, would require $37,323,385, including retirement and social security. The recommendations of the "B" Budget provide for salary increases of $15 per month beginning the second year of the biennium at a cost of $6,738,380. Thus, the increases which I recommend would actually require an additional

I also recommend comparable salary increases for teachers of vocational education. Funds to support these salary increases can be provided by redirecting non-state funds for vocational education, which are now included in the recommended "B" Budget.

The third step which I recommend would provide for 85 additional remedial teachers. They would teach children suffering speech and hearing difficulties, those who suffer from crippling physical impairment, those who are visually handicapped, and those children who are hospitalized, or who are not physically able to attend public school. While their number is small, these children must not be neglected by our public schools and their needs are just as important as those of other children. I, therefore, recommend an appropriation of $930,394, which includes retirement, social security and sick leave, for the biennium to meet this need.

There are presently 604 full-time and part-time guidance counselors employed in our schools. They are paid from federal funds provided by the National Defense Education Act, from state funds, and from local supplements to these funds. Their work is of great value to all our children, and I urge that local school units be encouraged to use more of these skilled services.

As you recall from my Legislative Message, my fourth recommendation involved the restoration of the continuing contract for our public school teachers. No additional funds are required to carry out this recommendation, but I strongly recommend that these contracts be made available to our teachers.

Our public school principals need to have an extended term of employment so that they will serve and receive salary for a period of ten and a quarter to eleven months each school year, depending upon the size and type of the school. As my fifth step, I recommend the extension of the term of our public school principals. This would require an additional $633,910.

To achieve my sixth step, I recommend that the state appropriate $3,381,416 for purchase of supplemental elementary school books, based upon $2 per elementary student, which will eliminate these book fees. The elimination of all school and book fees would require a total appropriation of at least $13,121,348, but I believe that the General Assembly should take this positive action on elementary school book fees at this time. This would be a clear indication of your intent to prohibit elementary supplementary school book fees, and to relieve students and parents of the burden of paying all school and book fees at the earliest possible time.

My seventh, and final, recommended step in assistance to public education would be to remove hunger from the classroom. You cannot teach a hungry child; nourishment for the body is an absolute prerequisite for nourishment of the mind. We have tried a new experiment in the school lunch program which has already shown astonishing results. By adjusting the allocation of Federal funds for school lunches, 87 schools in economically depressed areas were given increased funds to provide lunch for needy children. Within two months, marked improvement in attendance and participation at these schools was apparent. The number of lunches served increased 47 per cent. School attendance improved 10 per cent.

There are now 141 schools in North Carolina where economic conditions prevent sufficient local support and do not allow full participation in the present program. Less than 40 per cent of the children in these schools participate. Under Title I of the new aid to Elementary and Secondary Education bill now before Congress, sufficient federal funds may become available to meet the needs of these schools— plus additional assistance to all North Carolina children whose families earn less than $2,000 per year. As you know, the state has never given financial support to the school lunch program. However, if additional federal assistance does not materialize in this session of Congress, I recommend that the General Assembly appropriate $808,732 to provide state support for school lunch programs in these schools having the greatest need.

We should encourage those counties that are not currently taking advantage of the surplus food program for needy families to participate so that the children and other members of the family can get three nutritious meals seven days a week.

One major goal of my legislative program is a 10 per cent salary increase for all state employees under the Personnel Act. It takes qualified, experienced and dedicated people to operate our state government. In my opinion, the best way to maintain the quality of personnel and to attract well qualified people in today's highly competitive manpower market is to use the "across the board" method. It gives a substantial increase to all employees, including the lowest paid and those career employees, many of them technically trained, that are the heart and core of our state government. The total cost of this raise, including social security and retirement, is estimated to be $36,124,046 with $12,131,764 coming from the highway fund; $4,511,634 coming from special funds, and $19,480,648 coming from the general fund.

Since the State Personnel Act was adopted in 1949, the State of North Carolina has established, at considerable cost in money and time, a system of classified state positions with a standard salary scale commensurate to the duties and responsibilities of each job involved. To provide a fair and equitable salary increase for all state employees under this Personnel Act, an "across-the-board" percentage increase is the only fair and equitable method to raise and adjust salaries at the same time by legislative enactment. The need for an increase is just as urgent for the long-time career employee making $5,000 as it is for the new state employee who is beginning employment at $2,800. From the standpoint of the state as an employer, it is much harder to fill the middle and upper salary bracket job with a qualified person than it is the lower salary position where applicants are many and the turnover is more rapid. Often the state must attempt to recruit these "middle management" people from the ranks of private industry where salaries and benefits are higher than those offered by state government.

Since 1957, state employees have received legislative salary increases of approximately 10.8 per cent as compared with an approximate 26 per cent legislative salary increase for public school teachers. I believe all of these increases were necessary, but, in fairness to the state employees, it is obvious that they have not received the same consideration as our school teachers. In the last General Assembly, state employees received a legislative increase of $10 per month as compared with $15 per month for teachers for the first year. In addition, the teachers received another $10 per month for the second year while the state employees received nothing additional. You have already heard my recommendation for substantial increases for school instructional personnel for each year of the next biennium.

In view of the continuing rise in the cost of living, and the vital need to retain competent, efficient state employees, I believe that a 10 per cent pay increase for all state employes under the State Personnel Act is clearly justified.

The State Department of Conservation and Development must keep North Carolina in the forefront of modern industrial growth and development. As I mentioned earlier, we must create economic growth which provides more jobs, more tax revenues and a higher per capita income for our people. To provide a closer, more effective relationship between the Commerce and Industry Division and all our communities and counties, I suggested during my campaign that an industrial development representative from the Department of Conservation and Development be placed in each Congressional District. After considerable study, I now believe that these services can best be provided by five regional offices established by Conservation and Development across the state from which trained staff members in industrial development and community planning can be available to assist the economic growth of each community and county. I believe this extension of present services can be accomplished primarily with existing personnel. To establish these new offices on a regional basis would require an appropriation of $75,000 for the next biennium.

In my Legislative Message, I recommended the immediate establishment of two additional alcoholic rehabilitation centers—one in the eastern part of the state and the other in the western part. I feel strongly the need for these centers, and I am hopeful that from the Capital Improvement Budget the General Assembly can find sufficient funds to provide them.

The recommended budget calls for total expenditures of $2,071,524,286 with $1,099,512,488 being appropriated from the general fund. In keeping with the trend of recent bienniums, this is the largest budget ever recommended for the consideration of the General Assembly. It reflects the normal growth of such vital governmental services as public schools, community colleges, higher education, public welfare, health, public safety and regulation, correction, highways, natural resources and recreation, agriculture, employment security, retirement and pensions, and debt service. This budget report also reflects the tremendous amount of hard work and careful consideration which obviously was given by the members of the Advisory Budget Commission, who represent the General Assembly, the State of North Carolina and the people of our state.

Now that we are farther along in the fiscal year, with long-term trends becoming more and more apparent, we are able to project the amount of the state's budgetary resources with a much greater degree of accuracy then heretofore. From information coming in to us from the Commissioner of Revenue, the State Treasurer, the State Budget Officer, and the Director of Tax Research, we are now able to predict that these resources will exceed previous estimates used by the Advisory Budget Commission.

The economy of the state continues on the rise and tax collections continue to improve. In view of these healthy conditions, the Commissioner of Revenue's new estimates of general fund tax revenues are $480,381,366 for the present fiscal year; $516,505,218 for 1965-66; and $537,070,000 for 1966-67. These projections amount to $43,005,780 more than the estimates used by the Advisory Budget Commission.

Reversions represent appropriations which are not spent, and, therefore, are another source of funds to be considered for the next biennium. It is difficult to determine the amount of 1964-65 reversions until the accounts are closed at the end of the fiscal year. The State Budget Officer now estimates that General Fund revisions for fiscal 1964-65 will amount to $14,800,000, all of which will remain with the State Treasurer as a part of the beginning 1965-67 credit balance, and thus be available for reappropriation by the General Assembly. This revised estimate is $2,800,000 more than the estimate used by the Advisory Budget Commission.

In addition to these General Fund Resources just described, I am advised by the State Treasurer that by adjusting the dates of the principal repayments on the $100,000,000 school bond issue and on the recommended $17,985,000 Legislative Bond issue, the debt service requirements for 1965-67 may be reduced by $5,261,925. This additional amount also is available for appropriations by the General Assembly.

In my Legislative Message I expressed my concern about the capital improvement needs of our state agencies, state colleges and the University. It is apparent that the $34,878,785 recommended for capital improvements during the next biennium is not adequate. During the past month, I have sought to find other resources which might be applied to this great need. I am pleased to report the availability of a non-recurring fund which can and should be used to supplement the capital improvement program for 1965-67.

It has been called to my attention that a substantial General Fund "windfall" has now resulted from the installation of the "pay as you go" withholding individual state income taxes adopted by the General Assembly of 1959. When this plan was adopted, the state had no experience upon which to base its rates for withholding. It has to guarantee that the amount of taxes withheld would be substantially the same as the amount of taxes due. To insure that money would always be available for tax refunds due individuals who overpaid their taxes, the Revenue Department very properly set up a reserve fund for payment of these refunds. This withholding reserve was not included, of course, in revenue estimates furnished by the Commissioner of Revenue.

I am now advised by all the officials directly concerned with the fiscal affairs of the State—the Treasurer, the Commissioner of Revenue, the State Budget Officer, and the Director of Tax Research—that our experience with the individual withholding tax has proved the accuracy of our withholding rates and that the maintenance of this reserve fund is no longer required. The state can safely pay its tax refunds from current collections.

We are in the fortunate position to realize a "windfall' of approximately $12,000,000 from this reserve fund at the end of this fiscal year. I have requested the Commissioner of Revenue to place these funds with the Treasurer to supplement the June 30, 1965, General Fund credit balance as a budgetary resource for 1965-67. I repeat, this is a nonrecurring item which should be used for capital improvement only. This will give us a total of $46,878,785 in the General Fund Capital Improvement Budget and this amount, with proper allocation, will meet the most pressing needs of our state.

This appropriation for capital improvements would exceed by more that $11,400,000 the average biennial capital improvements appropriations for the last 10 years. The average during this period was $35,403,657. It should be remembered that during this ten-year period there were no capital appropriations in 1955-57 and only $8 million in 1961-63.

As you know, the state now has a $100 million bond issue approved for public school construction, and our local administrative units are in the process of issuing approximately $200 million in bonds. In addition, this General Assembly has approved a $300 million road bond issue, subject to the vote of the people. In view of all these facts, and the $12 million in new funds now available, I do not recommend a capital improvements bond issue at this time.

The recommended capital improvements do not include any college dormitories. They must be constructed on a self-liquidating basis. I share the reluctance of the State Board of Higher Education in approving this approach to dormitory construction, but do agree that this policy is necessary for the next two years as a stop-gap measure.

If you appropriate the funds for my program, as recommended, plus everything recommended in the "A", "B" and "C" budgets, this would cost approximately $4,275,000 more than the total resources now available. Obviously, you and I know that we must adopt a balanced budget, and I will work with you toward that end. I believe the difference can be found in economies which should be effected in the recommended budgets, or in additional resources which may become available later in this session. I will work closely with you and your committees in finding a solution to this problem.

As I stated earlier, all the budget requests are worthy of careful consideration and represent actual needs. In view of the limited tax resources which are available, the General Assembly must give objective appraisal to all these requests and determine the priorities which must be made at this time.

As only one example, I would cite the Community College program as a major area of activity which deserves your careful appraisal. Satisfactory progress appears to have been made in this new Department of Community Colleges. However, the General Assembly must determine the rate of accelleration and development of this new field of state-financed education beyond the high school. It would be well to re-examine the original concept of the community college program with reference to geographical locations, needs to be met, and the arrangements for state support. We must not overlook that North Carolina has 44 private and church-related colleges which offer many educational resources that should not be duplicated by state-financed community colleges.

I would like to emphasize that I believe in the value of a sound, carefully planned, well-financed community college program. These institutions, along with existing private and church-related schools, can expand the reach of our educational system to many additional students and help take the pressure off our state-financed, four-year colleges and the University.

I am certain that there are other major governmental areas in the proposed budget where economies can be effected. You, as representatives of the people, are free, of course, to make your own appraisal, and evaluation and assign your own priorities.

As you begin your final study and consideration on the 1965-67 budget, let me pledge to you that my administration will make every effort to see that your final appropriations are spent in accordance with legislative intent. We shall strive mightily to achieve new economies at every level of government. We shall study the functions of agencies to eliminate duplications and unnecessary programs. Good government is a habit in North Carolina—and we expect to continue and strengthen that habit.

In my inaugural address, I visualized a great future for our state within the structure of what I call the great and good community. I renew here and now my faith in the vision that I saw at the hour of my inauguration. We will not reach all of our goals during this session of the General Assembly, not during the next, but we will move closer and closer toward the great goals that we have set. The broad outlines of the great and good community are beginning to come into sight. As the years pass we shall all contribute to making this a reality. But in the very nature of our society, our program will never be finished, for the greatest and the goodness of our people come in the struggle to achieve rather than in satisfaction with a fancied perfection.

Thank you.

President Scott recognizes Senator Morgan who moves that the Joint Assembly dissolve. The Senate repairs to its Chambers and the House resumes consideration of its business.

STATEMENTS BY MEMBERS

I wish to have my vote on the second reading of H. B. 94 recorded as "Noe" in the Journal.

S/ Elton Edwards

I wish to have my vote recorded as 'Noe" on H. B. 94.

S/ C. W. Phillips

I vote "Noe' on H. B. 94 since career state employees who are not members of state boards and commissions will not receive any increase in travel and expense allowance under the provisions of any bills introduced to this date. Furthermore, I think the increase to twenty dollars is too large.

S/ W. R. Britt

I wish to be recorded as voting "Noe" on H. B. 94. First of all, the bill has never been considered by the Appropriations Committee as I think it should have, and secondly, this bill is retroactive to include members of the 1965 General Assembly. I do not consider it proper that we should raise our own per diem and allowances.

S/ Roberts Jernigan, Jr.

This bill would increase subsistence allowances of state boards and commissions to $20 per day in the event the actual cost to the person amounted to $20.00. This should also be made applicable to all state employees required to travel on business of the State in my opinion.

By the previous enactment of H. B. 150 in the earlier part of this session, the effect of H. B. 94 is also to increase subsistence paid members of the General Assembly from $12 per day to $20 per day. Members would draw this whether subsistence actually cost this much or not. I think this is wrong. I do not believe actual subsistence cost per day exceeds $15 to $16 per day.

I opposed this bill and desire to be recorded as voting against it. I realize there are other costs to members, such as stamps and long distance calls. If members should be compensated for these expenses, then do it directly by a bill, not indirectly.

If member's salaries are not sufficient as set in the Constitution, then an amendment to the Constitution should be proposed increasing the amount of salaries, not indirectly doing so by increasing the subsistence allowance.

S/ A. A. Zollicoffer, Jr.

I would like for the Journal to show that I voted against H. B. 94 to increase per diem and allowances of state boards, etc.

S/ Mary Faye Brumby
Cherokee County Representative

WHEREAS, you have attained recognition in this high calling of motherhood, we welcome you Mothers to these legislative halls today where the laws of our state are enacted. WHEREAS, we welcome you here as the greatest power for good in our land, as the greatest advocates of good government, and the greatest supporters of the laws that are enacted here; and

STATEMENT BY MEMBER

North Carolina workers deserve an honest hour's wage for an honest hour's work. We have workers in our state today whose only guarantee of this wage is the State Minimum Wage Law—a law that by any reasonable standard of measure is inadequate in its provisions, a law that does not meet the basic needs and demands of those whose needs are greatest. By raising the minimum to a reasonable and more realistic level, we have the opportunity of providing a guarantee more equal to that enjoyed by the vast majority of our citizens under federal law.

Minimum wage is not a new issue. It has long been an important subject in the minds of Representatives to the North Carolina General Assembly. Bills were introduced, but defeated in 7 of the 10 sessions before the citizens of this state finally got a state minimum wage law in 1959, a law that has benefitted thousands of our workers in the five years it has been in effect.

In 1959 the Department of Labor estimated that some 55,000 workers were directly benefitted by the 75¢ minimum wage legislation enacted in that year, even with the many exemptions that were written in. Exemptions included establishments employing less than six workers (later amended to less than four), a group of about 6000 waitresses and 2000 bellhops and porters whose earnings are derived mostly from tips; 1000 part time seafood and fishing industry workers; 1000 theatre ushers, doormen, cashiers, and concession attendants, and 800 nursing home employees. An undetermined number of public and private hospital employees earning less than 75¢ an hour were also exempt. Exemptions went on to include farm workers, persons under 21 employed by their parents, minors under 16 regardless of who employs them; baby-sitters, golf caddies, newsboys, shoe shine boys, pin boys in bowling alleys, part-time student workers, summer camp employees, salesman, employes on a commission basis and employees on non-profit educational, charitable, and religious organizations where the relationship of employer and employee does not really exist. And still, with all these exemptions 55,000 people directly benefitted from this first law.

In 1959 the earnings of all workers in North Carolina's laundry and dry cleaning industry averaged only 74¢ per hour. Yet some businessmen testified that this law would hurt them. I remember one, a laundry owner, who testified in committee that if the 75¢ wage bill were passed it would wreck his business. Since that time his laundry has expanded several times over and he continues to open new branches. That's the kind of "wrecking" all businesses could stand more of.

In that same year the Small Business Committee of North Carolina was strong in its fight against minimum wage, as it had been in previous years. Still, less than 3½% of the state's business firms responded to its call for assistance in the fight, and these firms employed only 1.64% of all the state's covered workers. Thus, not only employees, but most employers see the value of minimum wage legislation. Indeed, a large asset for businessmen is that it protects employers who pay a fair wage from unfair competition with other employers who would not voluntarily pay reasonable wages.

In 1961, two years later, the General Assembly expanded coverage of the law to make it apply to establishments employing four or more workers rather than six or more as it was enacted in 1959. As amended, the law applied to all non-exempt workers in an establishments, even if some of the "four or more" employees in the business were exempt. This meant that 20,000 more North Carolinians directly benefitted from minimum wage. Again in 1963 the law was expanded, and the General Assembly increased the minimum to 85¢ per hour in a compromise move. A bill which would have increased the minimum to $1.00 an hour passed the Senate, but was narrowly defeated in the House. The 85¢ minimum, having the same exemptions as the 75¢ law, further increased the earnings and purchasing power of the state's lowest paid employees.

Thirty-two other states had minimum wage laws before North Carolina enacted one, becoming the only southern state to protect workers not covered under federal law. At present, thirty-four states have minimum wage laws, twenty-one of which call for rates of $1.00 per hour or more.

Furthermore, there is a federal statute applying to all states which sets the minimum wage rate at $1.25 and provides for overtime pay of not less than 1½ times the employer's regular rates. This applies to all employees engaged in or producing goods for interstate commerce, some 800,000 in North Carolina.

At present there is a gap of 40¢ an hour between the $1.25 federal wage standard enjoyed by these 800,000 and the 85¢ standard which is the sole protection of the 250,000 North Carolinians not covered by federal law. Even if North Carolina had a $1.00 an hour minimum, a difference of 25¢ would still exist between state and federal wage requirements. But that dollar would mean a lot. The Labor Department estimates that a $1.00 minimum wage would bring direct wage increases to some 50,000 of the lowest paid workers in retail and service businesses, increasing their earnings by around 7½¢ an hour per worker on the average, giving them additional purchasing power of about $150.00 per year per worker, and increasing the total annual purchasing power of this group by some 7½ million dollars.

And the Labor Department has given its assurance that in view of the prosperous condition of the state's economy, of high employment levels, of booming construction, and of high retail sales, the increase could bring nothing but good effects to both business and employment. In the seven years between 1958 (a year before the first North Carolina minimum wage law was enacted) and 1963, the state benefitted from an increase in total retail sales of 1 billion, 138 million dollars. Per capita income in North Carolina has risen more than $300.00 in that period—from $1,492.00 in 1959 to $1,807.00 in 1963. A per capita income of $1,900.00 was predicted for 1964 in the state. North Carolina is in good shape; business in North Carolina is in good shape; there is no good reason why we can't help those in the lower income brackets who have no financial security other than the state minimum wage law. Indeed, we can't afford not to help them.

We can be proud of our minimum wage law. It helped North Carolina's most needy families to help themselves; it brought a minimum basic standard of living to many thousands of tarheels who had never before had any guarantee of a living wage. But it is not enough. In 1963 it was estimated that had the minimum wage law been set at $1.00 then, more than 50,000 workers would have benefitted a total amount of 24 million dollars per year, 24 million dollars more purchasing power, 24 million dollars to the overall economy of the state.

The time is already late; North Carolina, while ranking 10th in the nation in number of workers employed in manufacturing, still ranks only 43rd in per capita income. We now have an opportunity to raise those figures. We cannot afford, North Carolina cannot afford, to let that opportunity go by again. I sincerely hope that this great body will vote for and pass H. B. 100.

STATEMENT BY MEMBER

I vote "Noe" on H. B. 255 because the amendment to exclude the 73 electric municipalities from the provisions of the bill failed. If this amendment had carried, I would have voted for H. B. 255 because most of the remaining portions of the bill are in the public interest. The electric municipalities were not parties to the agreement between the power companies and the rural electric cooperatives. Therefore, I do not think the electric municipalities should be affected by the bill.
April 13, 1965.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA
BY THE HONORABLE DAN K. MOORE
GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly, and my fellow North Carolinians.

You know why I am here today. You know that I will present to you a Highway Safety Program and that I will urge that it be made into law.

First, I must convince you and the people of North Carolina that there is an urgent and a desperate need for immediate action.

I must drive home to you that this is a matter of life and death. A matter that just cannot wait any longer. A crisis that must have official and complete action. Now. Not later. Not half-way. Not piece-meal . . . but a total program which must not be delayed any longer.

Shall I start by showing you photographs of dead bodies? I think not. You've seen the smashed cars and the bloody bodies before . . . many times. But each time, the sight made only a momentary impression—to be forgotten only five minutes or five miles later.

How about these? At my hand is all that remains of one thousand, five hundred, seventy-six human beings. They're dead. All killed in a single year, last year on North Carolina highways. These are accident reports that describe tragic events that affected thousands besides the victims.

There are thirty times this many who suffered painful, agonizing injury. The actual number is forty-nine thousand.

Did those figures mean anything to you? Or were they just more of the same old numbers we've heard before—and dismissed from our minds?

Well, then try these numbers. Listen to them carefully because they spell out an epidemic more deadly than disease.

In the last four years alone, highway deaths in our state have increased twenty-five percent.

Injuries are up forty-two percent.

Total accidents have jumped thirty-eight percent.

At the same time, the number of vehicles in our state increased only eighteen prcent.

These are not just the same old figures. This is a runaway that must be stopped before it is a stampede.

With only eighteen percent more vehicles, we are killing twenty-five percent faster.

Injuring forty-two percent faster.

And smashing into one another thirty-eight percent more often.

Of course, that's only the human loss. The economic loss involves about two hundred ninety-three million dollars. That's about eight hundred thousand dollars a day.

Accept this as fact! Traffic accidents are an epidemic . . . and they are out of control. On top of this, imagine what will happen as we add nearly a hundred thousand more cars and drivers each year.

We must realize the urgent and desperate need for action.

We must have the courage to make laws and spend the money—without compromise—to meet this matter of life and death, and control it now! Now! . . . that our people may not die.

What shall we allow to stand in our way?

Can we wait for some magic solution to come along?

Can we afford to pat ourselves on the back and say, "We are doing all we can?"

Can we justify further delay with empty words like "inconvenience?"

The answer to all of these questions is no!

There is no single solution.

We have not done all we can to protect lives and property on the highways.

We must not; we cannot let individual inconvenience block our determination. Neither you nor I can afford to let our political ambition or popularity stand in the way. Our obligation to the men, women, and children of North Carolina demands that we take firm action. Now,

If the traffic accident toll stops rising in North Carolina, it will come from action in this session of the General Assembly.

The program will be built on a foundation of laws. It will involve the cooperative action of highway engineering, driver licensing and examination, law enforcement, driver education, driver improvement, motor vehicle inspection, research and the administration of justice.

All of these efforts must be grounded in the latest knowledge available in physics, in civil engineering, medicine plus psychology, sociology and mass communications. A total program of coordinated action.

We can stop the increase in accidents in North Carolina if you give us the laws. We cannot wait for individual drivers to be shocked into saving themselves. Only the people as citizens, acting through their elected representatives, can provide the tools to save lives on our highways.

Here are our primary goals to improve highway safety:

1. We must obtain, through administrative action and direction, greater use of existing manpower and resources.

2. We must make greater use of modern knowledge and existing research in helping solve these many complex problems.

3. With legislative support, we must strengthen existing programs and use new methods which have proven effective in our state or elsewhere.

4. We must obtain greater public understanding and support.

North Carolina Traffic Safety Authority

In order to make greater use of existing resources, we must have greater coordination of traffic safety efforts among the various agencies. The results will total more than the simple sum of their individual efforts.

I recommend the General Assembly create by formal statute a coordinating board to be known as the North Carolina Traffic Safety Authority.

Its principal efforts would be:

1. To develop the state's action program for traffic safety.

2. To provide continuing guidance of the state's overall attack on accidents.

3. To guide the state's efforts to inform the people about traffic accident prevention programs and to make clear the individual responsibilities of motorists and citizens. I know that we can count on the full support of all news media to make the most effective use of safety information.

Traffic safety in North Carolina should no longer be thought of as the providence of any one agency. It should command all of the state's resources and cooperation. This new relationship must be fully understood by everyone.

Membership of the Traffic Safety Authority would include: the Governor, as Chairman; the Commissioners of Motor Vehicles, Insurance, Labor and Agriculture; the Chairmen of the State Highway Commission, the Industrial Commission, the State Board of Education, and the Utilities Commission; the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Health Director, the Attorney General; the President of the North Carolina Traffic Safety Council; and a member of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, and a member of the Senate appointed by the President of the Senate.

University Highway Safety Research Center

We must close the gap which exists between knowledge created by research findings and its use in saving lives on our streets and highways.

We must harness the knowledge which is already available on the campuses of our colleges, universities, and research centers. We can and should utilize immediately the knowledge which is already existing in the scientific disciplines.

We need a central location with a small staff to provide for the orderly use of university personnel who will consult with the North Carolina Traffic Safety Authority and separate agencies of state and local government.

Therefore, I recommend the creation of a Highway Safety Research Center within the University of North Carolina.

The Center first would encourage university-wide involvement in the state's total accident prevention effort and would provide objective analysis of our current safety programs all across the board—from driver improvement to public education.

Second, the Center would coordinate and participate in professional training of the hundreds of people already on the job in the traffic safety field in North Carolina. The improvement of the skills and knowledge of those already in the field would yield great benefits without great expense.

Third, the Center would coordinate all research in traffic accident prevention in our colleges and research centers.

A biennial budget of one hundred thousand dollars would be sufficient to establish the Center.

Utilize Proven Programs

Now let us look at our third primary goal: to strengthen existing programs and use new methods which have proven effective in our state or elsewhere. To achieve this goal, we must direct our efforts at the environment in which the driver operates, and at the driver, himself.

I am convinced that the quickest way to improve the environment for our motorists is to remove unsafe vehicles from the highways. The only effective way to reduce this major hazard is to require the periodic inspection of every vehicle registered in the state.

I know some of you feel that mechanical failure is not a significant cause of accidents.

Defects in Accidents

Mechanical defects do cause accidents. About ten percent of the accidents in North Carolina are caused by mechanical defects, according to our own accident records.

Other states and research show much higher proportions.

Twenty-one states have reduced accidents as soon as inspection programs were put to work. North Carolina's one-year experience in 1948 saw a reduction of more than one hundred fatalities (or twelve percent) from the previous year.

The year after the inspection law was repealed, the toll jumped by more than one hundred lives and has been climbing ever since.

North Carolina is suffering the loss of more than one hundred lives every year that it delays adoption of motor vehicle inspection.

Unnecessary Repairs

Some people fear that an inspection system using private garages will result in unnecessary repairs.

The bill I am recommending provides for safety inspection of only those items absolutely essential to safe operation—brakes, lights, steering mechanism, horn, and windshield wipers, tires and directional signals where required. The bill provides no higher standards for these items than what is already required in our present statutes.

The bill provides for inspection stations to be selected and supervised by the state. The stations would be checked on a regular basis and complaints from car owners would be investigated and corrected promptly.

Cars failing to meet the minimum standards could be repaired at any firm of the owner's choice and would be re-inspected free of charge. Cost of inspection would be $1.50 with 25c being turned over to the state to make the program self-supporting.

Inconvenience

By far the most common objection to inspection is the bad memory of the 1948 experience and the fear that any system would cause undue inconvenience to the public. It is the easiest objection to overcome.

This bill will require one inspection per year and inspection dates will be staggered throughout six months so that only one-sixth of the state's vehicles would be inspected in any one month.

All of the objections we might mention would add up to a fear of improper administration of any inspection program.

I pledge to you and the people of North Carolina that there will be a reasonable and proper administration of this program.

Vehicle inspection will not solve the entire accident problem. But it promises more results faster than any other single bill you will consider in this session. Without its passage, I see little hope for an immediate impact on the rising accident toll.

Reflectorized Plates

A very promising safety device on the vehicle to improve the environment of drivers is the reflectorized license plate. At night, they are visible three times farther away than ordinary tailight reflectors. Seventeen states and the District of Columbia are reducing nightime collisions by using reflective safety plates.

The approximate cost for North Carolina to institute reflectorization of plates would be 13c per plate. I recommend you adopt these new plates as a one-year experiment to test this device in our state.

Since 1966 plates are already in production, a change-over could not be accomplished until the 1967 issue. This would provide ample time to obtain basic data on nighttime collisions to assure a thorough and meaningful comparison.

Outside Mirror and Seat Bealts

As another means of providing safer vehicles for our motorists, I recommend a law to require outside mirrors on the driver's side of all new cars sold in North Carolina after January 1, 1966. I am pleased to learn that auto manufacturers plan to install seat belts in the front and back seats of all new cars beginning next year. This is a further step in the right direction and complements North Carolina's efforts to establish seat belts as standard equipment.

The Highway

The three hundred million bond issue you have approved will be helpful in providing safer highways. I shall also make a number of requests to the Highway Commission to increase the portion of highway funds now being used to mark and sign the highways and to reduce current engineering hazards. No additional legislation is required at this time.

All of the above items deal with the environment of drivers. They seek to produce safer vehicles and safer highways. The following items are those which show the greatest promise in improving the habits of our drivers.

Drivers
Driver Education

In combatting the problem of driver errors, the most effective long-range plan yet devised is driver education. We must raise a new generation which is fully armed for survival in the automotive age. Young people have the most to lose in traffic accidents and we must teach them that it is smart to be safe.

To do this we need to provide the established thirty-six driver education course in the public schools for every new driver under the age of eighteen in or out of school. We must also have a renewed safety education effort throughout all grade levels in the public schools.

It will cost approximately two million dollars per year to put this program into effect. The direct savings on insurance premiums paid by our citizens will exceed this investment.

Courts

The front line of our attack on problem drivers is the court system. A top priority need to correct their behavior is a system of uniform courts called for in the constitutional amendment for court reform. Swift enactment of the court legislation now before you is vital to all of our efforts aimed at making safe drivers out of dangerous drivers.

Additional Patrolmen

North Carolina needs three hundred thirty-three additional highway patrolmen in order to reach the upper one-third of states which are properly matching their fatal accident experience with sufficient law enforcement coverage.

Each additional patrolman will cost ten thousand dollars. I have carefully considered the question of how many patrolmen to ask you to authorize. Keeping all of our needs in mind, I recommend the additional of fifty patrolmen in each of the next four years. I hope that at least that number will be added every year afterwards until the manpower of the patrol reaches accepted standards.

I pledge to you that this administration will make every possible effort to see that our highway patrol stays on the highway patrolling. And I shall work with court officials to reduce as far as possible the patrolmen's time spent in court.

Drunk Driving

Drunk driving is one of the most criminal acts modern man can commit. So often, innocent people are the ones who suffer from wrecks with drunken drivers. We have a good law in this connection and it should not be weakened. We will watch with interest further experience with the chemical test provisions.

Driving After Revocation

Persons whose licenses have been suspended or revoked have committed sufficient unlawful acts to force the state to remove them from the highways. That is, the state has used the last resort to improve their driving habits and there is no recourse left but to take away their privilege to use the highways.

When persons are convicted of driving after suspension or revocation of their license they should by law receive a mandatory jail sentence of from two to ninety days. I recommend you pass such a law.

Additional Licensing Steps

The following additional steps in improved driver licensing should be enacted.

Convictions for flagrant violations out of state should be considered in assessing points under the driver license point system.

We should include eighteen and nineteen year old drivers under the provisional license laws which now covers drivers from sixteen to seventeen.

We should approve the driver license compact to establish the concept throughout the United States of one state license for drivers. This will prevent the eventual federal licensing of drivers.

Dangerous Loopholes

Two loopholes in North Carolina's motor vehicle laws allow drivers who are found guilty of traffic violations to escape the recording of "points" on their violation records.

Prayer for Judgment Continued

The effect of "prayer for judgment continued' is that the judge finds the defendant guilty but no judgment is entered. Technically, the case is not closed and, therefore, no points can be assigned to the individual's driving record.

"Nolo Contendere"

The plea of "nolo contendere" amounts to an admission of guilt for the proceeding at hand and cannot be admitted into subsequent litigation. Technically, the Department of Motor Vehicles cannot consider such a plea when it has the discretionary authority of assigning points.

Both of the above conditions are defined as final convictions under North Carolina's Financial Responsibility Law, but are not so considered under the Uniform Driver's License Act.

Thus, the purpose of the point system is defeated. The Driver's License Act should be brought into conformity with the Financial Responsibility Law. The assignment of points should depend on the factual realities of a driver's conduct, as decided by a court, and not on courtroom technicalities.

Finances

Obviously, there is a price tag on most of the items we have listed. Let me list them.

	Biennium
Highway Safety Research Center	$ 100,000
Driver Education	4,245,273
Reflectorized plates	285,000
100 additional patrolmen	1,000,000
TOTAL	$5,630,273

Funds for the Safety Research Center and for driver education will be made available through the General Fund. Dr. Charles F. Carroll, Superintendent of Public Instruction, informs me that, in view of the enactment of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the funds necessary to finance the driver education program can be found in the recommended budgets for the nine-months school term. We will work together with the appropriations committee to make the adjustments necessary to accomplish this program. This will not affect other recommendations which I have made concerning the public schools.

Funds for the reflectorized plates and the one hundred additional patrolmen will be made available through the state highway fund.

Certainly there are some costs involved in the total program, but we are dealing with a matter of life and death and untold property destruction. The success of this program will justify the expense involved.

When we consider the cost of this safety program, please remember that highway accidents cost North Carolina eight hundred thousand dollars each day of the year.

Everyone of us pays this unnecessary penalty.

Accident prevention does not cost—it pays.

Local Action

I have described to you a comprehensive program for the State of North Carolina. Since almost half of our non-fatal accidents occur within city limits, municipal governments must also participate in this total state-wide campaign to reduce the highway toll. I urge local officials to support this state program with maximum local effort.

Established guidelines for obtaining official coordination and organizing citizen support are available through the North Carolina Traffic Safety Council to cities of five thousand population or more. The Council is eager and ready to provide full field services to those municipalities who seek help in a coordinated attack on traffic accidents. New programs are being developed and will be announced when completed.

The safety program which I have recommended to you is reasonable. It is realistic. It is the result of weeks of concentrated work by competent, experienced safety people. I am convinced that it can get results.

First, it brings together the many different proven means which have saved lives in North Carolina and other states . . . means which are acceptable to the public.

Second, it commits all of the state's resources in an organized effort to save lives and property.

Third, it makes maximum use of the knowledge which modern science has made available.

Fourth, it provides for improved public understanding and support.

But remember that there is no single, magic solution. No quick cure. Many have thought they had found one. Only to be disappointed.

If each of us understand now how many, many factors are involved, and realize the urgent and immediate need, we shall have a total program of coordinated action. And that program will work.

This is a beginning that can pay off now and in the long-run. But a beginning that must start here.

Now!

With you!

Your action can make it a reality.

You actually have the power to save human life and to prevent the staggering economic losses resulting each day from highway accidents.

Use that ability! Exercise that power without delay and without compromise. Join with me in placing above political popularity or ambition our obligation to the men, women and children of North Carolina.

Thank you.

After the Governor's address, on motion of Senator Morgan, the Joint Assembly dissolves, the Senate repairs to its Chambers, and the House resumes consideration of its business.

SEVENTY-SECOND DAY

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Tuesday, April 27, 1965

The House meets pursuant to adjournment and is called to order by Mr. Speaker Taylor.

Mr. Speaker Taylor presents the Reverend Richard A Cheek, Pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ, Richmond, Virginia for the morning prayer and orders the prayer spread upon the Journal.

"For the beauty of the earth

For the glories of the skies

For the love which from our birth

Over and around us lies.

Lord of all to Thee we raise

This our voice in grateful praise.

Unto all of us, O Father, so much has been given. Remind us that unto whom so much has been given, of him shall so much be required.

Be, we pray, O God, with this body as they meet today. Give to them wisdom and understanding beyond their own powers. Grant to them conviction in their deliberations; yet, let them be ever mindful of those whom they represent.

Be above them to shelter them, beneath them to hold them up, before them to lead them on, behind them to gather them when they stumble and fall, without to surround them with Thy love, and within them to give them life.

And when the labors of this day are completed, the shadows lengthened and darkness once more covers the earth, cover our sins with Thy Mercy as Thou dost cover the earth with darkness. Grant us the safe rest of another night and yet the light and labor of another day. And unto Thee, O God, be Honor, Might, Majesty, Dominion, and Power, now and forever.

Amen".

STUDIES FROM THE STATUS OF WOMEN
The North Carolina Study
The Kennedy Study
Mrs. Grace Taylor Rodenbough,
Walnut Cove, N. C.

"Before the Committee on the Status of Women in the Government considers any bills assigned to the Committee, I asked permission to make a few comments on the findings of the North Carolina Commission on the Status of Women and also President Kennedy's Commission on the Study of the Status of Women. There have been studies made in 30 of our states.

I shall begin by saying what you men already think, and that is the "Last word on women will never be written until 'thus endeth the future' ".

We, of course, know that self-preservation has foundational drive in both sexes, but the drives express themselves, at times, inharmoniously.

Women are the incarnation of practice while men are the victims of theory. It is said that men reason better, but women remember longer. Of course, a woman can be moulded by environment so that she becomes a male in skirts. Women have proved through the centuries that they have endurance. Woman have a longer life-span than men.

A woman needs status. She resents being a second-rate citizen. She needs security yet, she seems to endure insecurity less well than men.

We hear more about woman's position today because rapid social change is upsetting traditional images. Woman has a right, if not an obligation to fulfill her potentialities.

2,000,000 live in North Carolina;

Health and life expectancy have improved tremendously;

Fewer years are devoted to child rearing;

Technology has reduced the physical conditions of keeping house.

Women's legal status has improved to the point that no important discriminations against women are written in North Carolina Law. Nearly a third of the women over fourteen are in the labor force. Seven-tenths of all women in the State over fourteen are married. The decline in the birth-rate and the great improvement in infant mortality rates have brought a basic change in the pattern of women's lives.

Educational opportunity for the North Carolina women has improved remarkably—a higher proportion of women than men have finished high school and have had some time in college.

Many trained women are not able to work because of inflexible hours in industry, business and government. Other women who are heads of families and work for their support suffer from inadequate child-care facilities, from job discrimination, wage discrimination and lack of knowledge of openings. Sixty-three percent of all women workers are married. The median earnings of female workers is $680 a year less than those of men. Since woman have more years of schooling than men, lack of education cannot be the cause of women's consistently lower earnings.

Since the median age of women workers in North Carolina is 38, one might assume that women generally are more likely than men to quit their jobs, might be questioned.

The proportion of female employees is 1/3 in the State's administrative agencies; 2/5 in local Employment Security Commission offices; 2/3 in County Health Departments, and 3/4 in County Welfare Departments.

Of course, the image of femininity often enters into the scheme of things and the lag is within women themselves.

The shortage of technical and professional workers could be alleviated if employers could exercise ingenuity in setting up part-time jobs open to trained women who are carrying household loads and family responsibilities. In socio-economic levels, in both low and high, the mental health of the child is better where the mother works part time.

At age 35, the average woman has 42 more years to live. Many such women are stable, experienced in home responsibilities and highly motivated to work.

Something will have to be done, for professional and technical personnel cannot suddenly be met from the unemployed. Three-fourths of college-educated women in the labor force occupy professional positions. This shows the rewards of higher education.

This country has the shortest school year of any in the civilized world, averaging 180 days.

The 1960 census shows adult women in North Carolina have about one year more education than adult men.

We have the problem of those women who cannot qualify for the simplest technical training because they never finished elementary school. In the other extreme we have married women of 35 to 40 who want to go to Graduate School but find themselves rejected as too old. We have a tremendous need for more guidance, for in the future there will be work and family life in varying degrees. So, public schools and colleges have many problems with which to deal.

Even without the power of the ballot women went into politics because of their interest in the issues. We must have the flexibility to welcome change rather than to fear it.

Women have been conditioned to believe that they are inferior. They were led to believe that they had less mental capacity because they had smaller brains. We know now that the size of the brain has nothing to do with the capacity. The largest brain on record was that of an idiot, while the smallest brains have been those of some of our geniuses.

The world is in a critical condition; women can't be blamed for their advice hasn't been in great demand. George Elliott said, 'The world is still a little dubious about the propriety of a woman using her mind.'

Women in this country have had the vote longer, however in other countries where women are just getting the vote, there has been a greater rise in the number of women in public office.

I had the pleasure of presenting Lady Astor to the 1955 General Assembly —first woman in English Parliament. She began her remarks by saying, "I'm so aggressive I repel myself.' While I think Lady Astor was one of the most delightful, charming, interesting people I've ever known, I'm not sure that being too aggressive is the best way to get ahead. She said, 'Most women marry beneath themselves, I did'. She did admit that her success was due to the fact that she was born south of the Mason-Dixon Line.

The greatest hindrance to good government is the indifference of the voters to their civic obligations. It is un-American not to vote. It shows that we are not willing to fight for and to protect our American way of life, American home and American family.

If we have a workable democracy, politics may be a part of every one's life.

If there is stigma attached to politics, which is the art and science of government, our citizens are responsible. For government is as good or as bad as the citizens want it. Even though there are more women than men, we know the affairs of the world will continue to be run by men. We just want to help you run the affairs more humanely.

Women want to be judged on their merit and not on their sex. When I first came to the Legislature, I became terribly concerned about the State's medieval property and inheritance laws which gave so little protection to the surviving widow where there was no will. I had so many letters from widows whose husbands had died intestate. The majority of the people die without a will, so their estates were distributed under the State's obsolete intestacy laws.

Our law of intestate succession was the law which determined how property could be distributed in the absence of a will. The law developed in England at a time when land was the sole important source of wealth.

When Justice Clark came to the Supreme Court, he found the law with respect to women cruel and in many instances revolting.

The condition was not created by legislative enactments but was brought about almost entirely by judicial decisions based on the English Common Law which, of course, was judge-made. This was before there was a Parliament.

Woman was a legal nonentity. It finally became known that the only hope for reform would have to come through legislation, so it was the General Assembly that finally freed women from their outrageous injustices.

Chief Justice Walter Clark, who more than any other North Carolinian, prepared bills at the request of members of the General Assembly for reforms that freed women from judicial slavery in North Carolina.

Men were favored over women and blood lines were favored over heart lines.

Before the adoption of the Constitution in North Carolina, in 1868 women and their property were in jeopardy. Everything she had upon marriage became that of her husband. She was not even allowed a separate provision for herself out of her own property. There was one exception. If she survived her husband, her realty became her own. She practically assumed the place of a chattel.

Someone said that upon marriage, the husband and wife become one and that one was the husband. Until 1959 North Carolina had to abide by some of the legal rules of the Middle Ages. Even though the average estate contained more personal property; that is, stocks, bonds, insurance policies, etc. than real property.

North Carolina was one of the few states to observe the ancient distinction between real and personal property. The out-dated widow's dower was the right of the wife to use the profits of one-third in value of the husband's real estate during her life time.

During the 1959 and 1961 Sessions of the General Assembly, many provisions were made to equalize the rights of men and women. The new law passed during the 1959 Session of the General Assembly did away with the estates of dower and courtesy. Husband and wife were placed on equal basis.

The new law abolished distinctions drawn between ancestral and non-ancestral property, erased past distinctions between relations of the whole and of the half blood. The new law established a table of distribution of a sort which would take care of those entitled to inherit in case of no will.

Chester Davis, Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinal, wrote two interesting stories on the State Intestacy Laws. He said the law was written when women were considered to be creatures of the kitchen and the bed room and little else. I was amused at the wording of who may make a will—S. B. 26, Chapter 1098, General Statutes 31-1. Any person of sound mind, 21 years of age and over, including married women, may make a will. Not too long ago, the Supreme Court declared the part of the law which placed a wife on equal basis with her husband unconstitutional.

Article X, Section 6, of the North Carolina Constitution, said the real and personal property of any female in this State acquired before marriage and all property real and personal to which she may, after marriage, become in any manner, entitled shall be and remain the sole and separate property of such female and shall not be liable for any debts, obligations or engagements of her husband and may be devised and bequeathed, and with written assent of her husband conveyed by her as if she were unmarried.

Case of Dudley vs. Staton—Mr. Dudley and his wife had been married fourteen years and had lived together continuously. Mrs. Dudley had an older son by a former marriage to whom she left all her real and personal property. Will made January 28, 1961. In May Mr. Dudley filed a dissent. Of course, husband found in conflict with Article X, Section 6. Supreme Court declared it unconstitutional.

Women should never have voted for this Constitutional Amendment. I don't believe they would have, had the amendment not been miss-labeled. It was a man's law.

Most wives outlive their husbands too. You know that many widows are married for their money. Now, the husband of the widow can dissent and get 1/4 of what the first husband made.

I doubt if some of you men would like this.

We are facing a battle of the minds and I feel women have a real challenge to help solve the differences.

Remember, it is said that in every land, civilization is measured by the Status of Women."

APPENDIX

INAUGURAL ADDRESS
OF
GOVERNOR DAN K. MOORE
RALEIGH MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM
Friday, January 8, 1965

My fellow North Carolinians:

I come to this rostrum today with pride and with humility.

I come with pride in the privilege you have given me to serve a great State and a great people.

I come with humility-humility born of a deep awareness of the responsibility that this privilege of service imposes.

The road from Canton to Raleigh has been a long road. But we have at last arrived. Despite the rough jolts and sharp turns of the trip, my wife, my family and I have enjoyed every mile of the journey. It was a heart-warming experience we shall never forget.

The road from Canton to Raleigh carried us through every county and into most communities in North Carolina. It took us into the lives of many different people-farmers, textile workers, housewives, school teachers, fishermen, state employees, truck drivers, doctors, lawyers and many, many others. We listened, we asked questions and we gained a new awareness and a deeper understanding of our State's greatest resource—its people.

At times we were discouraged and tired. But all our difficulties and doubts faded into insignificance as we were bolstered by the unfailing kindness, courtesy and understanding of people everywhere.

Today, as I took the oath of office, I felt that I had their good will. It is they who made our trip worthwhile. It is they I will seek to serve.

Mrs. Moore and I are grateful for the presence here today of so many friends and neighbors from the hills of home. I was born, reared and have spent most of my adult life in that section of the State which lies west of the Blue Ridge. My forebears have lived in that beautiful region since it was first opened to the white settlers. As Thomas Wolfe wrote: "Each of us is all the sums he has not counted."

While I am naturally proud of my mountain heritage, I know and appreciate all the people of North Carolina, whether they live on the wide, sandy beaches of the Outer Banks, the black loam of the Coastal Plains, the red clay of the Piedmont or the rocky slopes of our Mountains. During the next four years I will be the Governor of all the people.

I have taken the oath of office without any reservations. It is my firm resolve to devote to my official duties during the next four years all I have in ability, vision and energy. I will have no conflict of interest to sway my judgment and no unworthy ambition to promote.

North Carolina has grown and flourished under the guidance of many able governors. We all are beneficiaries of their efforts to improve our public schools, colleges, highways, mental hospitals, state ports, fiscal stability, conservation and development of natural resources, agriculture, industry, cultural achievements, and humanitarian services.

My administration will build upon the solid foundation of State services that these past leaders have provided for us. Each of these governors represented principles and causes supported in his day and time by thousands of North Carolinians devoted to the well-being of our State.

Any evaluation of these achievements must recognize the vital role played by our General Assembly. North Carolina has been fortunate to have the services of dedicated, able legislators down through the years. I look forward eagerly to working with members of the 1965 General Assembly. The door to my office will always be open to them.

Similarly, credit for progress in our State must be given to the North Carolina Supreme Court and the entire Judiciary. Justice based on law administered by dedicated and qualified justices and judges has been the hallmark of our solid progress. It must continue to be.

While we have had outstanding governors, legislators, and judges, it is the people of North Carolina who have actually made our progress a reality. North Carolina has acquired its own character, tradition and history through the struggle, sacrifice, courage, and hard work of men and women who met their own responsibilities.

It will not be my purpose here today to re-state the details of a program that has already been submitted to the people during more than a year of campaigning. I have an obligation to carry out that program, and my total energy will be devoted to that task.

My purpose today is twofold: to state the spirit that will guide me in the administration of your State government, and to call on all who love North Carolina to join me in a new dedication to the total development of our State.

Stated briefly, my administration will seek to give the people of North Carolina honest, efficient and economical government. We shall utilize people who are skilled, creative, productive-who have a strong feeling of ethical responsibility. We shall work closely with the Lieutenant Governor, with the Speaker of the House of Representatives, with the Council of State as provided in our Constitution.

We shall always stay in close touch with the North Carolina delegation in Congress, particularly in these days of crisis in the tobacco industry. North Carolina, along with the other sovereign states, will stand solidly behind the President of the United States as he seeks to carry out his responsibilities in the continuing struggle against communism and seeks to preserve peace in a troubled world.

Integrity in public service will be a watchworld of my administration. The sole purpose of State government is to serve our people's needs faithfully and well. It should serve no other purpose.

My administration will be a government of laws and not of men. The law is just as binding on the Governor and all other public officials as it is upon the humblest citizen of this State. No one is above or beyond the law. Each of us is equal when we stand before the bar of justice. We shall see that the law is impartially enforced without fear or favor.

Today let us rededicate ourselves to the virtues and high principles of public service that have contributed so much to bring North Carolina to this day of great promise. I will provide the firm leadership that will give North Carolina a government that is dynamic, a government that is compassionate and tolerant, a government that looks realistically at the hopes and aspirations of every citizen.

Ours is a fast-moving age, an age of promise, an age of change. If we are to compete in this age, as we must, then we will approach these changing times with an open mind and with a determination to take full advantage of all opportunities they may afford.

At the same time, we must acknowledge that there are values and principles that do not change; that change merely for the sake of change is not progress. In many areas in recent years, we have seen an erosion of the human spirit, a complacency that is frightening, a fatalistic acceptance of political and economic trends that threaten basic concepts precious to North Carolinians. We have seen the growing strength of socialistic schemes, the rise of big givernment, the not-so-gradual weakening of the free enterprise system. We in North Carolina are opposed to these trends.

I believe strongly in the American system of free Enterprise. Its incredible productivity and vitality have provided our State and Nation with an ever-improving standard of living. We must continue to encourage and strengthen free enterprise, whether local, state or national. Sound growth and expansion in business, industry, agriculture, commerce, utilities, transportation and communications are essential to the total development of North Carolina. Research, science and technology are other vital components which must be encouraged. And we should never forget the value of cultural enrichments in the lives of our people, and the preservation of beauty in our State.

The decisions of my administration will be made in keeping with our proven traditions of good government. Each issue will be judged on its merit. When caution is dictated, let us, in keeping with our tradition, have the courage to be cautious. If boldness is dictated, let us, in keeping with that same tradition, have the courage to be bold.

I hold the firm conviction that North Carolina stands at this moment on the threshold of greatness, looking to an era of unprecedented prosperity and growth. We have come to the moment when our dreams can become a reality, not because fate willed it, but because North Carolinians in past years have made this possible.

The challenge before us now is to move forward. It is an exciting challenge. And it is one that North Carolinians will meet with a new enthusiasm, building proudly and with confidence on the sound foundation we inherit from the past.

From this threshold of greatness, North Carolina will move forward in education. Heartening as our educational progress has been, we must not be complacent. Much more remains to be done in public schools, in community colleges and in our institutions of higher learning. We must give to all our children the best that we can provide in educational opportunity. Less than that would be a cruel disservice to these children and to North Carolina.

Education is a capital investment in the future of our State. The direct and indirect return on that investment can and will stagger the imagination of our people and quicken the economic pulse-beat of our State. The simple fact is that today the well-educated man or woman has become the single most important capital resource in our society.

From this threshold of greatness, North Carolina will move forward in all major segments of our economy. We must have more new and expanded industries, more diversified and profitable agriculture, more and better rural roads, primary and urban highways and improved health and medical care. We must have improved courts, better humanitarian services and good human relations.

One crucial problem which must be attacked immediately with new vigor and new ideas is being spelled out in blood on our streets and highways each day. The crisis in traffic accidents leaves us no choice but to recommend constructive action by the 1965 General Assembly. I shall have specific recommendations on traffic safety and other parts of my legislative program when the General Assembly convenes in February.

We realize, of course, that whatever advancements we may be able to make in education and other basic State services must be made within the limits of available State revenues.

Considering the fact that North Carolina performs many services on the State level, I do not consider that we are a high-tax State, but I do contend that our taxes are high enough and should not be increased. So all who desire more revenue for the public service should do everything possible to assist in the further industralization of our State, in diversification of agriculture and in an all-out effort to increase our per capita income.

To meet the challenge of 1965 and the years ahead, each of us must contribute the best we have to offer. I wish to call upon North Carolinians of every section, of every race, of every political affiliation, of every station in life, to help us realize this dream for a greater North Carolina.

It is my hope that every man and woman in our State will share in this endeavor. I want them to feel that they can make a contribution, no matter how small, to the building of a better North Carolina. My administration will seek their active support, their continued interest and their suggestions on how we can reach this worthy goal.

To me, North Carolina is a great and good commnuity—one giant neighborhood extending from the mountains to the sea. Such a community represents the hopes, the dreams and the aspirations of all our people. This concept of the great and good community is not mine alone. It comes to me from the hearts of the people themselves, the people with whom I have talked and whose voices I have heard.

The challenge of the hour is great. The potential of our people to achieve is unlimited. The question is: are we really prepared to take advantage of the great opportunity now before us? We are, if we as a people all work together.

Yes, the road from Canton to Raleigh has been a long one. That journey is ended. Today I begin a new journey to serve the people of North Carolina as their sixty-first Governor. I accept without reservation the grave responsibilities.

As Governor Zebulon B Vance said in his Inaugural Address on January 1, 1877: "Let us remember that good government confers not of itself wealth, prosperity and happiness, but only places them within our reach, and renders it possible for them to be acquired by those who seek them with energy, industry, and integrity.... Above all, let us learn to use our great victory with moderation and justice, and strive to wield the power which is this great day given us, as those who must render an account, both here and hereafter."

I believe no man can accept such high office without a realization that the hand of Divine Guidance is present in all our mortal struggles for a better life, as expressed in the familiar hymn:

"O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come;
Be thou our guide while life shall last,
And our eternal home!"

MESSAGE OF THE HONORABLE DAN K. MOORE,
GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA,
TO THE EXTRA SESSION
THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly of North Carolina:

Thank you for your courtesy in permitting me to appear before this joint meeting of the extra session of the 1965 General Assembly. I am grateful for this opportunity to present for your consideration my recommendations concerning the amendments to Chapter 1207 of the 1963 Session Laws as set forth in the Speaker Ban Law Study Commission report.

As you recall, the General Assembly, in its past session, enacted Resolution No. 85 which was 'A Joint resolution creating a commission to study the statutes relating to visiting speakers at state supported educational institutions'. This resolution authorized and directed the appointment of a nine-member Commission to make a careful, full and detailed study of General Statutes 116-199 and General Statutes 116-200, relating to visiting speakers at state supported educational institutions of higher learning, with respect particularly to the enforcement of the statutes;

the relationship, if any, between these statutes and the accreditation of state-supported institutions by accreditation organizations and associations;

the effect on the relationship of these institutions with other institutions of higher learning and the impact of the statutes as to the status, administration, reputation, functioning and future development of state-supported institutions.

This Commission, composed of two members appointed by the President of the Senate, two members appointed by the Speaker of the House, and five members appointed by the Governor, was named on June 24, 1965. My appointments were:

The Honorable David Britt of Fairmont, Representative from Robeson County, who served as Chairman.

Colonel W. T. Joyner of Raleigh, prominent attorney.

Charles Meyers of Greensboro, President of Burlington Industries, Inc.

Mrs. Elizabeth Swindell of Wilson, immediate past president of the North Carolina Press Association.

The Reverend Ben C. Fisher of Wake Forest, Chairman of the Commission on Higher Education of the Baptist State Convention.

The Honorable Robert W. Scott, Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina, appointed the Honorable Gordon Hanes of Winston-Salem, Senator from Forsyth County; and the Honorable Russell Kirby of Wilson, Senator from Wilson County.

The Honorable Patrick Taylor, Speaker of the House of Representatives, appointed the Honorable A. A. Zollicoffer of Henderson, Representative from Vance County, who served as Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations; and the Honorable Lacy Thornburg of Sylva, Representative from Jackson County.

The membership of the Study Commission was made up of outstanding citizens whose understanding, ability, judgment and love for North Carolina are beyond question. The commission held its first meeting on July 14, 1965, organized and began work immediately on its assigned task set forth in your resolution.

Public hearings were held on August 11 and 12, 1965, and September 8 and 9, 1965, in the State Legislative Building. All North Carolinians were given an opportunity to be heard. The public hearings were well attended and given extensive coverage by newspapers, radio and television. A complete transcript of the testimony and other documents was taken for consideration by the Commission.

On November 5, 1965, the Speaker Ban Law Study Commission made its report to me in the Hall of the House of Representatives at the State Capitol. I had been furnished an advance copy during that week so that I could study the contents of the report and its recommendations prior to release.

I approved the report and its recommendations without any reservations. I immediately sent copies of the Commission report and my statement of approval to each member of the General Assembly, to each trustee of a state-supported institution of higher education, to the president of each of these institutions and to members of the State Board of Higher Education. At the same time, I also requested that the Boards of Trustees of the University of North Carolina and all other state-supported institutions of higher education meet on or before Friday, November 12, 1965, for the purpose of considering and adopting the speaker policy recommended in the Commission report.

I am pleased to report to you that the Boards of Trustees of the University and our other state-supported institutions of higher education have met, considered and approved without modification the speaker policy recommended by the Study Commission. This is a remarkable achievement which reflects credit upon the ability of our trustees to unite in a constructive action to do what is best for North Carolina and her institutions of higher learning. Our trustees have measured up to their responsibilities as outlined by the Study Commission, and I commend them for their public-spirited actions.

My second step after receiving the Commission report and recommendations was to call, by and with the advice and assent of the Council of State, this extra-ordinary session of the General Assembly of North Carolina for the purpose of considering the recommended amendments to Chapter 1207 of the 1963 Session Laws as set forth in the Study Commission report.

I fully realize, of course, that the Governor has no power to limit the deliberations of a session of the General Assembly of North Carolina. However, in view of the gravity and complexity of the Speaker Ban controversy, and the need for finding a reasonable, rational solution to this problem, I respectfully recommend that the members of the General Assembly agree to restrict your considerations of legislation to this one proposed bill. This has been done before in North Carolina.

It is a well-established tradition that Tar Heels often hold and express differing points of view on matters of public issues; yet, when the public interest is threatened, we can rise above our differences and settle the controversy calmly, dispassionately and in a lawful, orderly manner.

The Study Commission report, and its recommendations, speak for themselves. It is unnecessary that I repeat its findings, and I hereby make the report, and its recommendations, a matter of record with this message.

I am convinced that the legislation recommended in the report of the Commission, 'A bill entitled an act to amend the law relating to visiting speakers at state-supported institutions', will serve the best interests of the State of North Carolina and the cause of higher education in our State. It will place the authority and responsibility for regulating visiting speakers with the Boards of Trustees of the University and our other state-supported colleges. This bill is the result of months of intensive study, deliberation and consideration by a dedicated group of citizens appointed at your direction. I recommend it to you both in letter and in spirit.

The Study Commission report concludes with the statement that 'we must seek mutual respect and a middle ground'. We do indeed need to adopt the middle ground of moderation in this problem. Judge Learned Hand, one of the great jurists in American history, defined the spirit of moderation as 'the temper which does not press a partisan advantage to its bitter end, which can understand and will respect the other side, which feels a unity between all citizens—real and not the fictitious product of propaganda—which recognizes their common fate and their common aspirations.'

Regardless of how each of us may feel about the exact provisions of the existing Speaker Ban Law, the public controversy arising as a result of this law is damaging to the State of North Carolina. It is dividing our people at a time when unity is needed to grasp and hold the great opportunities facing our State and Nation. We are exhausting our energies which should be better directed toward building a better state, better institutions of higher education and a better future for every boy and girl in North Carolina.

We have not forgotten that our Nation is at war with worldwide Communism. North Carolinians and other Americans are dying in the jungles of Viet Nam to protect our freedom here at home and across the world. All of us who enjoy the freedom and security of today are forever in their debt. Their sacrifices have stiffened our resolve to oppose the spread of Communism whether it comes by force of arms or by infiltration in our society. As a vetern of World War II, I know from first-hand experience the high price which our Nation has paid to enjoy the freedom and security of today.

However, we must not allow our steadfast opposition to Communism and totalitarianism to blind us from the facts involved in the Speak Ban controversy. The proposed legislation simply returns the authority and responsibility for regulating visiting speakers to the Board of Trustees of the University and our other state-supported colleges. I am convinced that this amendment to the existing law will end the bitter controversy which is dividing our people and our State.

Ladies and gentlemen of the General Assembly, let us accept the reasonable and honorable settlement suggested by our Speaker Ban Law Study Commission. If you will support legislation as recommended by the Commission, there will be no defeat for anyone, but a victory for all the people of North Carolina."

Pursuant to remarks contained in the Governor's message and by direction of Mr. Speaker Taylor, the Report of the Commission to Study the statutes relating to visiting speakers at state-supported educational institutions is ordered spread on the Journal.

REPORT OF COMMISSION TO STUDY THE STATUTES RELATING TO VISITING SPEAKERS AT STATE-SUPPORTED EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

"To His Excellency, Dan K. Moore, Governor of North Carolina:

This report is made to you pursuant to Resolution Number 85 of the 1965 Session of the General Assembly entitled 'A Joint Resolution creating a Commission to study the statutes relating to visiting speakers at state-supported educational institutions'.

The Commission authorized by this resolution consists of nine members appointed as follows: Five members appointed by you, namely, Representatives David M. Britt, Reverend Ben C. Fisher, William T. Joyner, Charles F. Myers and Mrs. Elizabeth G. Swindell; two members appointed by the President of the Senate, namely, Senator Gordon Hanes and Senator J. Russell Kirby; and two members appointed by the Speaker of the House, namely, Representative Lacy H. Thornburg and Representative A. A. Zollicoffer, Jr. Pursuant to your designation, Representative David M. Britt served as chairman.

The first meeting of the Commission was held in Raleigh in the Legislative Building on July 14, 1965, with all members present. Mrs. Swindell was elected by the Commission to serve as secretary and Mrs. P. E. Howell of Raleigh was employed to render clerical services to the Commission.

At the initial meeting the members became acquainted with duties provided in the resolution and discussed various ways of approaching the work. It was unanimously decided that public hearings should be scheduled, at which all of the state-supported educational institutions affected by the law, accrediting agencies, and other interested parties and organizations would be provided an opportunity to be heard.

Public hearings were held on August 11 and 12, 1965, and September 8 and 9, 1965, in the auditorium of the Legislative Building. They were well attended and given extensive coverage by newspapers, radio, and television. The transcript of the testimony and other documents considered by the Commission are filed with this report.

Under the provisions of the resolution the Commission was charged with the duty of making a careful, full and detailed study of General Statutes 116-199 and General Statutes 116-200 (Chapter 1207 of the 1963 Session Laws) relating to visiting speakers at state-supported educational institutions of higher learning, with respect particularly to the following:

1. The enforcement of the statutes;

2. The relationship, if any, between these statutes and the accreditation of state-supported institutions by accreditation organizations and associations;

3. The effect on the relationship of these institutions with other institutions of higher learning; and

4. The impact of the statutes as to the status, administration, reputation, functioning and future development of state-supported institutions.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE STATUTES

At its initial meeting the Commission considered the legality of the statutes and authorized the chairman to appoint a subcommittee to give special study to such legality. Inasmuch as five members of the Commission are lawyers, the Chairman constituted them a subcommittee for this purpose.

The subcommittee gave careful consideration to the constitutionality of the statutes and considered various decisions and legal memoranda on the question. Among these was a memorandum prepared by Deputy Attorney General Ralph Moody in 1963 and also a supplement thereto prepared by Mr. Moody at the request of the Commission. Another memorandum considered was that of Professor William Van Alstyne of the Duke University School of Law. Mr. Moody expressed the opinion that the laws are constitutional and are a proper exercise of the police power of the State of North Carolina. Professor Van Alstyne expressed the opinion that the laws are unconstitutional insofar as the Federal Constitution is concerned. Other memoranda and legal articles were filed with and considered by the Commission.

After deliberation and discussion, it was the consenus of the full Commission that the problems posed by these statutes should be approached on a much broader basis than a strictly legal one; therefore, no steps are recommended to determine the validity of the statutes.

As to enforcement, testimony presented at the hearings by officials and administrators of the various educational institutions affected by the law revealed that they have diligently complied with the law and the Commission received no evidence that the law has been violated since its enactment on June 26, 1963.

ACCREDITATION

A large part of the inquiry of the Commission was directed to the matter of accreditation. At the August hearings Dean Emmett B. Fields of Vanderbilt University, Chairman of the Commission on Colleges, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Inc., and Mr. Gordon Sweet, Executive Director of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Inc., were heard and questioned in great detail. The agency represented by these two is the primary accrediting agency for all colleges and universities in North Carolina. The officials of this agency take the position that these statutes 'remove(s) from the governing boards of the state institutions of higher learning in North Carolina, their traditional authority to handle such matters with administrative discretion,' and 'raise(s) an issue of interference with the necessary authority of the boards.'. Also on the matter of accreditation, the Commission heard from Dr. Frank G.

Dickey, Executive Director of the National Commission on Accrediting, and Dr. W. H. Plemmons, a former member of the said Commission on Colleges.

We are confident that the Southern Association has done much to improve the quality of education in the South. However, this Commission is not charged with the responsibility of passing upon the wisdom of the Association's action in this matter. The Commission devoted considerable time to studying the significance of accreditation on our state-supported colleges and University. Suffice it to say accreditation means much, financially and otherwise. For any institution to lose accreditation would be substantially damaging.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OTHER INSTITUTIONS

In various ways the Commission studied the effect of the statutes in question on the relationship of our institutions with other institutions of higher learning. These studies disclosed that there is a closely knit bond between the educators of our Country. Grievances of administrators and faculties in one state receive the concern and support of their counterparts throughout the land. In fact, such grievances in one or more schools receive the concern and support of counterparts in other schools of the same state, as indicated by the 'sympathetic reaction' to the subject statutes of the administrators and faculties, and even students, of several church related colleges and universities in North Carolina.

The unrest resulting from the statutes in question has extended far beyond the eleven institutions directly affected. It would appear that, unless the unrest is removed, entertaining communists could become glamorized in our state, thereby defeating one of the primary purposes of the statutes.

IMPACT OF STATUTES

In considering the impact of the statutes in question on our state-supported institutions of higher learning, we must consider the tangible and the intangible. The most obvious impact would come from loss of accreditation, if such should occur, inasmuch as many financial aids which our institutions now receive are not provided to unaccredited institutions. The Commission made contact with numerous federal agencies and private foundations and although some of the aids and programs provided are not dependent upon accreditation, many of them are, and with others accreditation would be a factor. For example, a R. O. T. C. program is contingent upon accreditation.

As to the intangible, considerable prestige accompanies accreditation. We are convinced that many students would not attend any of our eleven institutions if accreditation were lost, due partly to increased difficulty in securing recognition for work done in an unaccredited institution.

Also important is the consideration of faculty members. The demand for qualified faculty members far exceeds the supply and this promises to be the case for many years to come. Loss of accreditation would make it much more difficult for our eleven institutions to recruit and maintain adequate faculties.

CONCLUSION

We are convinced that the people of North Carolina are strongly opposed to communism and all other forms of totalitarianism. They are concerned about the expansion of atheistic communism throughout the world, and this concern is increased by the mortal conflict that is now raging in Viet Nam and other places.

Information from J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and other reliable sources is to the effect that the tempo of communist efforts in the United States is being speeded up and that communists are taking advantage of every opportunity. There appears no doubt that the communists consider college and university campuses a fertile field for their work and this has been evidenced recently by the organization of radical clubs on campuses across the nation and the infiltration of communists into certain campuses demonstrations in other parts of the country.

We feel that the 1963 General Assembly was sincere in its enactment of the statutes in question and felt that it was 'striking a blow' for Democracy. It also appears that the General Assembly was reflecting the feeling of a large segment of the population of North Carolina and since the enactment of these statutes, many people have risen to their support.

On the other hand, it is quite evident that many members of the 1963 General Assembly who voted for the statutes did not foresee the far-reaching effects of the statutes. It is our judgment that the primary objective of the General Assembly was to prevent communist rabble rousers and their kind from using the campuses of North Carolina as a forum for their evil activities.

During the public hearings held by this Commission much was said about communism, the appearance of speakers who were alleged to be members of the Communist Party, and the presence in the student bodies of students who individually, and by group activity, were active ultra-liberals.

A careful review of this testimony indicates that these statements and allegations were directed primarily at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, covering the period from 1937 to 1965. This testimony discloses that in more than a quarter of a century fewer than a dozen speakers from among the thousands who have appeared during these years were specifically mentioned as extremists and not all of these were alleged to be communists. Among students, not more than five were singled out from among the more than 40,000 who have graduated from the Chapel Hill campus over this span of time.

The testimony shows that the University would not knowingly employ a member of the Communist Party in any capacity, and direct testimony by its officers indicates that no such person is employed. No evidence to the contrary was presented to, disclosed to, or discovered by the Commission. We also note that all members of the faculty and staff have formally affirmed their allegiance to the Constitutions of the United States and the State of North Carolina. We review these allegations here because we gave ample notice to all persons who wished to appear before the Commission, or felt that they had pertinent information, to do so. The evidence before this Commission failed to disclose that the faculty of the University at Chapel Hill is infiltrated by communists. The evidence shows that the University does not foster or encourage any political doctrine that would suppress the liberty or freedom of any individual.

We believe that it is highly desirable that students have the opportunity to question, review and discuss the opinions of speakers representing a wide range of viewports. It is vital to our success in supporting our free society against all forms of totalitarianism that institutions remain free to examine these ideologies in a manner consistent with educational objectives.

The evidence before us fails to justify charges of irresponsible radicalism at Chapel Hill. There have been and will always be individuals who express themselves in ways that, to some, are disturbing because they are unorthodox and the larger the institution becomes, the more it is likely to attract this type of individual.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is a great institution that has served the State well. Members of the General Assembly and all citizens of our state are justifiably interested in our University. There is no evidence before us of any plot, plan, campaign, or conspiracy by anyone to injure the University or any state-supported college.

Although most of the discussion about the statutes in question has been related to the University at Chapel Hill, the impact of these statutes affects all four campuses of our University as well as the eleven colleges supported by the State. There was no evidence before the Commission that a communist has ever appeared as a visiting speaker or otherwise at these other institutions. Accreditation means much to all branches of the University, but it means at least as much, if not more, to the other eleven institutions. Loss of accreditation would be far reaching in its damage, not only from the standpoint of financial benefits but also from the standpoint of attracting students, the transfer of credits of students, the recruitment of faculty members and the retention of fully dedicated teachers and staff members.

The public hearings conducted by this Commission have provided the people of North Carolina with a wealth of information about our institutions and the effects of the statutes in question. It is the opinion of this Commission that a large majority of the people of our State realize the great need of education at all levels and that they do not favor legislation which will jeopardize the best educational opportunities for our youth.

It is also our opinion that the trustees of our educational institutions should assume more responsibility for the operation of our institutions and should be constantly on the alert for anything that would be harmful to our institutions and to the educational programs they promote. The Trustees of our Institutions constitute a vital link between the institutions they represent and the people of North Carolina.

Finally, we conclude that education at all levels in North Carolina, and the continued progress and welfare of our State, require that the statutes in question be amended to impose responsibility for the subject matter of the statutes in question on the trustees of our institutions; provided, that the trustees give assurance of their willingness to accept this responsibility and particularly with regard to the subject matter of these statutes.

Academic freedom requires academic responsibility. We specifically state that our recommendations should not be construed to mean that we necessarily agree with all the educators who appeared before this Commission on the question of academic freedom. The fact is that our concern about the current unrest in educational circles in our State leads us to the conclusion that the stakes are so high that responsible people, both educators and others, must strive for some solution that will settle this controversy for the foreseeable future.

The fires of intolerance will surely injure the process of education. To solve our problem, to quench the fires now burning, it is necessary that the people on one side of the controversy be more understanding and tolerant of the honest views of the people on the other side. We must seek mutual respect and a middle ground.

To that end we direct our recommendations.

RECOMENDATIONS

1. Subject to Recommendation No. 2, we recommend that Chapter 1207 of the 1963 Session Laws be amended so as to vest the trustees of the institutions affected by it not only with the authority but also with the responsibility of adopting and publishing rules and precautionary measures relating to visiting speakers covered by said Act on the campuses of said institutions. We submit as a part of this report a proposed legislative bill to accomplish this purpose.

2. We recommend that each of the Boards of Trustees of said institutions adopt the Speaker Policy hereto attached and made a part of this Report.

3. In order that this important matter might be settled forthwith, we recommend that you, The Governor of North Carolina, request the board of trustees of the affected institutions to assemble as soon as practicable for purpose of giving consideration to the aforementioned Speaker Policy, and at such time as it has been adopted by the said boards of all of said institutions, that you cause to be called an extraordinary Session of the General Assembly for purpose of considering amendments to Chapter 1207 of the 1963 Sessions Laws as hereinbefore set forth.

Respectfully submitted, this November 5th, 1965.

SPEAKER POLICY

The Trustees recognize that this Institution, and every part thereof, is owned by the people of North Carolina; that it is operated by duly selected representatives and personnel for the benefit of the people of our state.

The Trustees of this Institution are unalterably opposed to communism and any other ideology or form of government which has as its goal the destruction of our basic democratic institutions.

We recognize that the total program of a college or university is committed to an orderly process of inquiry and discussion, ethical and moral excellence, objective instruction, and respect for law. An essential part of the education of each student at this Institution is the opportunity to hear diverse viewpoints expressed by speakers properly invited to the campus. It is highly desirable that students have the opportunity to question, review and discuss the opinions of speakers representing a wide range of viewpoints.

It is vital to our success in supporting our free society against all forms of totalitarianism that institutions remain free to examine these ideologies to any extent that will serve the educational purposes of our institutions and not the purposes of the enemies of our free society.

We feel that the appearance as a visiting speaker on our campus of one who was prohibited under Chapter 1207 of the 1963 Session Laws (The Speaker Ban Law) or who advocates any ideology or form of government which is wholly alien to our basic democratic institutions should be infrequent and then only when it would clearly serve the advantage of education; and on such rare occasions reasonable and proper care should be exercised by the institution. The campuses shall not be exploited as convenient outlets of discord and strife.

We therefore provide that we the Trustees together with the administration of this Institution shall be held responsible and accountable for visiting speakers on our campuses. And to that end the administration will adopt rules and precautionary measures consistent with the policy herein set forth regarding the invitations to and appearance of visiting speakers. These rules and precautionary measures shall be subject to the approval of the Trustees."

After the Governor's address, on motion of Senator Morgan the Joint Assembly dissolves, the Senate repairs to its Chamber and the House resumes consideration of its business.

STATEMENT BY MEMBER
November 16, 1965

Mr. Speaker:

I desire to insert this statement in the record on H. B. 1.

In the 1963 Session of the General Assembly, I was one of the eight introducers of the legislation prohibiting known Communists, Fifth Amendment pleaders, and persons conspiring to overthrow our form of Government from speaking at North Carolina State supported institutions. I sincerely believe that this law has served a very useful purpose and that the general public is overwhelmingly in favor of safeguards intended in this legislation. However, I feel that by placing the responsibility of compliance of this legislation in the hands of the various boards of trustees that they will carry out the wishes of the general public. I join what I consider the majority opinion in North Carolina in restating that I am unalterably opposed to any known Communists in any category, speaking on the campuses of our State supported institutions. Since all these trustees are either elected directly, or approved by the North Carolina General Assembly, I feel that it would be impossible for a Communist sympathizer to serve on any of these boards of trustees.

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Fellow Members of the General Assembly:

I do not arise to impugn the motives nor to criticise the judgments of any man nor any group of men. We all acknowledge the sincere and dedicated service of the distinguished and able members of the Commission appointed to study the law to which our attention is now directed, and which deeply concerns the people of our state.

I do arise to say that this is indeed a sad day for North Carolina, and a dark day for our General Assembly—acknowledging that there have been many who think otherwise, the record of the General Assembly of North Carolina has been one in which its members and our citizens generally can take pride—and today, or tomorrow, or before this week has ended the General Assembly of North Carolina as we have known and revered it, may pass into history. The votes you cast this week may be the last you will ever cast in a General Assembly which down through the years has been honored and made great in part by the contributions of the dedicated services of men sent here by the little counties of North Carolina along with the services of men sent here by the people of our larger and more populous counties.

And this day is made more sad because it appears that we are urged to cast this last vote which we are privileged to cast, as a member of this great body in a certain way, under the dark shadow of threats urged upon us, and under extreme pressure which would rob us of the privilege of exercising our votes in accordance with the known wishes of the people of North Carolina.

We all have learned that honest men may honestly disagree on issues confronting the people of our state. No man knows better than I know that there are times when other men do not share my views. Yet I also know that there are many times when men are restrained by expediency or by personal pressures from expressing agreement with views of others including my own, for which they would fervently like to vote, but do not. Each of us has the right to stand upon his or her own convictions—and in this sad day—an under the dark shadow of the threats which would direct our action, it seems to me that our votes should now of all times reflect the wishes of our people as we know them.

More than 13 years ago, in a hard fought primary election I won the right to represent my county of Lenoir in the House of Representatives of the North Carolina General Assembly—that bright galaxy of dedicated men whose judgments rarely depart from the known wishes of the people. It was my high privilege to serve in that distinguished body in the sessions 1953, 1955 and 1957, and with some of you who sit before me now. I am proud to have served in the House—always it will seem like home to me. And, when I began my service here it seemed to me that 'never yet had heaven appeared so blue, nor earth so green' as when I thus embarked upon the service of my state. I knew that if I were diligent, and faithful to the trust, I could find some way to demonstrate my love for our great State and make a contribution to her government.

I am no less proud to be a member of the Senate of North Carolina and to have had the privilege of serving in that Body in the sessions of 1961, 1963 and 1965, and of working with that distinguished body of dedicated public servants whose wisdom and sound judgments complement and join with those of the members of the House in our joint effort to do as near as we are able to do, that which is best for the people of our state.

History tells us, and we have often been otherwise assured, that the General Assembly of North Carolina is reputed to be the most powerful legislative body on earth. This is the General Assembly of the one state in the 50 states which comprise the greatest nation in the history of the world, which denies to its Governor the veto power. The General Assembly of North Carolina can, within constitutional limits, do what it wants to do.

Until now I have regarded this reputation of our General Assembly as unquestioned, and its great power as a fact. Will we preserve for posterity the respect which comes with this reputation and power of our General Assembly? God forbid that we besmirch it in the last days of the existence of this Great Body as it is yet constituted, by permitting its last acts to be directed by a threat—any kind of a threat from any source. We are not called here in haste to deliberate upon anything. Except for the record we are not asked to exercise our own judgments. We are urged to follow a course laid down for us—and the urgency of the call stems from the alleged threat of damage to our University by an agency which has no right nor any just cause to damage it—and the threat of impending action of a Federal Court—the exact character of which cannot be predicted.

Thus are we asked to bow the sovereignty of our state to the threat emanating from an association nurtured in part by some who are chiefest among the beneficiaries of the tax money paid into the treasury of our state by the people of North Carolina and distributed by the General Assembly. I am confident that those who are pleased with the 'study' made of this matter, and with the recommendations of the study commission take comfort in the thought that after a time the people will cool down; that they will philosophize that the damage has been done; that any evil of the recommended action or its hurt to the consciences of the people will have been suffered and the force of this blow absorbed. They may even feel that if we pass this bill the people will accept without protest the recommended compromising by us of an issue poignant to them.

I do not join my respected colleagues in this judgment of the intelligence and patriotism of our people. We have the right and the power, if we choose to exercise it, to continue at least until a safer time the protection which the people now have—and but for these threats would undoubtedly remain intact. In my judgment most people will not soon forget the action of Legislators who substitute their own judgment in a matter of this nature and importance for the known wishes of the people. I know not what you may do, but for my part I will not follow the course urged upon us in the shadow of these threats.

I am sure you join me in a profound respect for our great Governor, and that you hold him, as I do, in highest esteem and affection! I am sure that you also share my great respect for the dedicated and sincere members of the Study Commission of which our much respected and beloved colleague David Britt was Chairman. I know that they are completely honest and sincere in their recommendations, but I cannot become a party to the surrender or to the apparent surrender of the Sovereignty of our State for any reason, for any purpose or for any expediency—and least of all to the end that we may temporize with those who would provide our worst enemies with the cloak of respectability and with a forum and a platform at state expense—whether this be done frequently or infrequently.

The surrender or the compromise of the sovereignty of our state is the prerogative of the people. I regret that we are called upon to act under such circumstances as to damage the reputation and integrity of this General Assembly as a Legislative Body. I am sure that no one intended such a result. But in my opinion, so long as we may be asked or required to act pursuant to or in the light of threats, such a result is inescapable.

If we follow the course laid down for us at this time, the reputation of the General Assembly of North Carolina as the most powerful Legislative Body on earth crumbles into dust. There are those to whom this means nothing, and many are they among them who see nothing wrong or degrading about acting under a threat.

I deplore and lament the situation in which we find ourselves. For this we do not blame our colleagues or others who urged the call of this special session upon the 9th day after the report of the Study Commission was made public. The blame must lie upon a chain of unfortunate and uncalled for events which precipitated a situation in which members of the General Assembly are asked to yield to the fear of threats and to act as recommended. To me this situation is intolerable.

With great respect and in all humility I suggest that we call upon our experience, our ingenuity and our energies in these last hours of our General Assembly as it is yet constituted, to find a less unhappy issue out of our affliction than to succumb to these threats.

Let each of those who pose these threats act first. Then let us meet them and deal with them as the consequences may require. It has been said that the 'stakes are high'. I agree that the stakes are high. But, they are not so high that we should prostitute the honor, and record and the integrity of this distinguished body upon the altar of fear and apprehension. To do so is not in the North Carolina tradition.

If we follow the course laid down for us we could soon go home to a disappointed and disillusioned people.

Let us rather re-dedicate ourselves now to act in the tradition of the General Assembly of North Carolina without fear and with honor.

Let us say to those who threaten us that never yet has this Honorable Body bowed to the dictation of any outside force and that we will not bow down now.

I pray that when we leave these stately halls we will have no remorse for past actions nor regrets for lost opportunities.

I hope that when we return to our homes that our people can say to each of us 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant'.

s/ THOS. J. WHITE"

On motion of Representative Uzzell, the remarks made by Mr. Speaker Taylor on yesterday, Tuesday, November 16, 1965 and by Representative Britt on Monday, November 15, 1965 are spread on the Journal.

"If we adopt this amendment, I am afraid rather than end the controversy we are going to inflame the State of North Carolina for some eight months to come in the bitterest sort of debate one way or the other. We are not going to be able to be working on things that we should work on. The Governor of North Carolina would never have taken the position that he has taken if he hadn't felt like that this matter ought to meet that test. If you don't think this Commission has made a good report—vote against it. But, please don't let this matter continue on and be submitted at a general election in the State of North Carolina; and, so I apologize to you for coming down and speaking, but I feel so strongly on it that I wanted to express my personal opinion.

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and Fellow Members of the General Assembly:

This opportunity is taken to provide you with a report from the Commission which you authorized in the 1965 Regular Session to study the Speaker Ban Law. Pursuant to your action at that time a nine member commission was appointed. At the outset I express my appreciation for the eight outstanding persons who were chosen to serve with me in this important matter.

Under the resolution authorizing the Commission we were directed particularly to consider the so-called Speaker Ban Statutes with respect to enforcement of the statutes; the relationship, if any, between these statutes and the accrediation of state-supported institutions by accreditation organizations and associations; the effect on the relationship of these institutions with other institutions of higher learning; and the impact of the statutes as to the status, administration, reputation, functioning and future development of state-supported institutions.

Pursuant to these guidelines, the Commission scheduled public hearings which were held here in the auditorium of the Legislative Building and I deem it appropriate to provide you with a brief review of those public hearings.

On August 11, 1965 we heard from representatives of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. They contended that the Speaker Ban Law violated the principle and policy of their organization prohibiting political interference with the operation of institutions accredited by their organization. These representatives were not only heard but were questioned in great detail by members of the Commission.

On this same date we heard from the Acting Director of the State Board of Higher Education, who at our request, had contacted various federal agencies to determine the relation of accreditation to participation in their programs. We also considered communications from private foundations.

On this same date we heard Representative Philip Godwin, the introducer of the Speaker Ban Law in the 1963 General Assembly. We felt that it would be in order, pursuant to legislative custom, to hear from the introducer of the bill in order that he hight explain the same and the intent and purposes of the bill.

On August 12, 1965, we devoted the morning session to hearing from the American Association of University Professors. Representatives of this organization contended that the Speaker Ban Law violated the principle of academic freedom. They were questioned at great length by members of the Commission about this matter.

The entire afternoon session on August 12, 1965, was devoted to hearing from the North Carolina Department of the American Legion.

We then scheduled additional hearings for September 8 and 9, 1965. In order to determine what adverse effect, if any, the Speaker Ban Law had caused or might cause to the educational institutions covered by it, we invited the presidents of all twelve institutions to appear before us. In contacting them we asked them to provide us with their answers to the following questions: 'Has the Speaker Ban Law injured your institution and, if so, how? Will the Speaker Ban Law probably injure your institution and, if so, how?'

At the closing session on August 12, 1965, we notified the general public by means of television, radio and the press that if any group or individual desired to be heard by the Commission to please notify the Chairman at his home address.

On September 8, 1965, the entire day was devoted to hearing from the Chairman of the State Board of Higher Education; the President, Chancellors and certain Trustees of the University of North Carolina; Mr. Frank Dickey of the National Accreditation Association; and the Presidents of the eleven colleges receiving state support.

Without exception these administrators stated that their respective institutions had been hurt or probably would be hurt by the Speaker Ban Law, particularly in the matter of accreditation.

In a full day session on September 9, 1965 the Commission heard from the following: Mr. Ralph Clontz, Jr., Charlotte attorney, who was an undercover agent for the F. B. I. in the late 40's or early 50's when Communist activities at Chapel Hill were being investigated; Mr. Clontz's appearance being at the request of the Chairman of the Commission following suggestion by a representative of the American Legion; former Governor Luther Hodges; Mr. John A Wilkinson of Washington, N. C.; representing the Alliance of Conservative Republicans; Mr. John G. Thomas, Director of News, Radio Station WCKB, Dunn, N. C.; Mr. Charles Aycock Poe, Raleigh attorney; Mr. Hugh A. Wells, Raleigh attorney; Mr. James B. McMillan, Attorney of Charlotte and other U. N. C.—C. H. alumni; Dr. Lee Wiley of the U. N. C.—C. H. faculty; Mr. Ed Croem, representing the Teen-Dems of North Carolina; Mr. Walter Turner, Chairman of College Young Democrats of North Carolina; Dr. Leslie W. Syron, representing the American Association of University Women; Dr. Richard E. Gift, representing the Davidson College Chapter of the American Association of University Professors; Mr. Bill Goodman, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Representative Steve Dolley, Jr., representing this organization; Senator Thomas J. White; Drs. Harold K. Dudley, Everette K. Brown, and B. Frank Hall, representing the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina; and Presidents of the Student Bodies of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina State University and Wake Forest College.

We mention the fact that each and every person who asked for the opportunity to be heard was given this opportunity except three. One of these three was a former State Senator who attended the hearings on September 9 and requested the Chairman to be heard if time would permit; hearing from those who had made previous requests to be heard consumed all of the afternoon and the former Senator agreed that there was no time; he was an opponent of the Speaker Ban Law. The second person was a citizen of a neighboring county who wrote the Chairman a day or two prior to the hearings and enclosed certain information for each member of the Commission; it was the Chairman's understanding that this citizen merely wanted the information distributed to each member of the Commission and was not asking to be heard personally but he has indicated otherwise since that time. The third person was a citizen of Cabarrus County who wrote the Chairman but the letter was not received until after September 9, 1965, and in view of the fact that there were no other requests the Chairman did not see fit to schedule a further hearing for purpose of hearing from one citizen.

We review the foregoing to emphasize that full notice was given to the effect that any person or organization that wanted to be heard would be heard and that if any person or organization had any information that would be helpful to the Commission in discharging its duties to please provide the Commission with that information.

Of the approximately 25 people appearing on September 9, 1965, five were opposed to any change in the Speaker Ban Law, they being: Mr. John A. Wilkinson, Mr. John G. Thomas, Mr. Bill Goodman, Representative Steve Dolley, Jr. and Senator Thomas J. White.

Special mention is made of the testimony of Mr. Ralph Clontz, Jr. Commission members questioned him at considerable length regarding Communism and the activities of Communists. He gave considerable information about Communist activities at Chapel Hill during the late 40's and early 50's. He was asked if he felt that Communists should be allowed to speak on our college campuses and he stated that they should not be allowed. He was also asked how he felt about the Speaker Ban Law. His answer to this was that he did not feel that the stockholders should try to run the corporation but that this should be done by the directors and if the stockholders were not satisfied with the way the directors were operating the corporation, the directors should be removed and others elected. Of course, he was suggesting that in this instance that members of the General Assembly are the stockholders, the University and Colleges, the corporations, and the Boards of Trustees the directors.

After these hearings members of the Commission held several unannounced meetings at which they were able to deliberate and arrive at conclusions.

One of the basic conclusions that has to be reached is to determine the purpose of the Speaker Ban Law.

On this point the testimony of Representative Phil Godwin is pertinent. He stated that he and several others discussed the Speaker Ban Law at various times during the 1963 Session, their concern being prompted by reports of J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to the effect that Communist activities in the United States are being stepped up and particularly on university and college campuses. He stated that he did not want his 13-year-old son subjected or exposed to Communist speakers if his son should elect to attend one of our state-supported institutions of higher learning. He further stated that as an introducer he was not vindictive of any institution and it was not his purpose to injure or punish any institution.

The Commission accepted this testimony at face value and believes that the introducers of the bill acted in good faith as indicated by the testimony of Mr. Godwin.

As to the purpose of the Speaker Ban Law, no doubt various members of the 1963 General Assembly had various purposes in mind and I desire to state my personal opinion.

I knew nothing of the bill until it was introduced in this House. The gentleman from Gates moved that the rules be suspended and that the Reading Clerk read the bill. The bill was read and I must admit it sounded good to me and I could see nothing wrong wit it. Many of us as Legislators sort of follow a practice if we can see nothing wrong with a bill or resolution, we do not oppose it and that was true in this instance.

Frankly, I was greatly surprised by the reaction to the Speaker Ban bill. I felt that it was appropriate that our youth attending our state-supported university and colleges should be protected from Communist influence and I still have that opinion. It is my hope now that no more will be invited and it is my honest opinion that if the recommendations of our Commission are followed and the Speaker Ban Law is amended as we have suggested that there will be no political Communist speakers on the campuses of our State University and Colleges in the foreseeable future.

Having stated what I believe to be the purpose of the Speaker Ban Law we then ask the question, has the law accomplished its purpose? My answer to this question is partially yes and partially no.

I believe that the law has partially accomplished its purpose because it has shown the strong sentiment of the people of North Carolina on the matter of Communism. From every section of our state the message has come clear and strong that our people are unalterably opposed to Communism or other form of totalitarianism that would destroy our basic Democratic institutions. I am sure that our educators and administrators have received this message and now know the strong feeling of our people on this subject.

On the other hand, the answer to this question is partially no because of the reaction to the law.

Let us assume that appearance of Communist speakers at Chapel Hill prior to 1963 was sufficient reason for the passage of the law. I realize that this assumption is subject to debate but let us assume it for the time being.

The situation can be compared to a physician treating a sick patient. He diagnoses the case and prescribes treatment—usually medication—with the goal of curing the patient. Sometimes there is a reaction to the treatment that makes the patient even worse. When that happens, the skilled, intelligent physician not only refuses to administer more of the same treatment but gives the patient something to counteract the original error.

In this instance, the University of North Carolina could be the patient and our General Assembly the physician. We administered the remedy in 1963 but the reaction has been such that it is highly questionable as to the net results of the treatment. I fear that the reaction has made the situation worse than it was prior to passage of the law and the reaction is contagious, spreading to other campuses of our state.

This reaction has taken many forms.

There is resentment and hurt feelings on the part of the faculties, not only at Chapel Hill but elsewhere among our state-supported campuses. A faculty member from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro wrote me, and after mentioning a brilliant war service record concluded that the General Assembly by this law accused him of either being a Communist or Communist sympathizer or being so stupid or naive as to be duped by Communists. Educators throughout the nation have arisen to the defense of their counter-parts in North Carolina.

There is resentment among the students, which, I fear, is causing many of them to 'play with fire' in this serious matter. The fire has spread beyond the campuses of our twelve state-supported institutions on to certain church-related campuses. For 129 years prior to 1963 the church-related college which I attended, so far as I know, never invited a Communist speaker but that happened in 1965. A similar appearance was made at one of our other well-known and highly respected church-related institutions.

There is resentment among many who are closely associated with educators and students. An example of this is the minister in Chapel Hill who permitted Carl Braden to appear in his church just off the UNC campus. I am sure he had a better environment to influence his listeners than Gus Hall had back in 1949 when he was not allowed to speak on the UNC campus but tried to speak from a pickup truck on a Chapel Hill street and according to Ralph Clontz was almost mobbed by the students. As is true with the skilled physician, it is now time for us—the General Assembly—to modify the remedy we have imposed on our patient, to the end that the patient will not only recover from the reaction but from the original condition as well.

Let us consider now the recommendations of the Commission.

The key words of these recommendations are 'middle ground'. We realize that there are strong feelings and opinions about this matter but it is our belief that there is a middle ground on which reasonable people can meet.

The report which we have filed is imperfect, both from the standpoint of form and content. But, I say to you in all earnestness, it represents the heart of the Commission.

When we began our work there was a suggestion that we might obtain the services of someone from the Institute of Government or other qualified person to serve as a research assistant and then help us in preparing a well worded report; but, after brief discussion the Commission concluded that its work would be done by members of the Commission and although the end product would not be polished, it would be 100% ours.

The recommendations of the Commission were based in large part on information received at the hearings. Although my sympathies were very much in favor of the Speaker Ban Law, after listening to all of the testimony presented at the hearings there was no doubt in my mind that as responsible people members of the Commission should recommend changes in the Speaker Ban Law.

Many people who appeared at the hearings were impressive, but one of the best impressions was made by the President of East Carolina College, Dr. Leo Jenkins. It appears to be the objective of Dr. Jenkins that the college he heads will not only serve the state generally and Eastern North Carolina in particular as an institution of higher learning but that it will also assist in the economic and cultural development of the area it serves.

It was quite evident that this college president had given considerable thought to this problem and he presented a statement of policy unanimously approved by his Board of Trustees relating to the matter of visiting speakers.

The impression and contribution thus made started the Commission on its way to the action it finally took, that of recommending that the Trustees of each of our institutions adopt a statement of policy on this matter.

As stated above, representatives of two of our very fine Veterans organizations appeared before us, representatives of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The fact is that there are men with distinguished service records on both sides of this controversy. I shall not attempt to mention the war record of all who appeared at the public hearings in opposition to the Speaker Ban Law but will mention three.

The first is a well known lawyer and educator who was a rifle battalion commander in an infantry division in World War II. He was involved in three major engagements in Europe and was awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star and the Legion of Merit. The second that I mention is a prominent Charlotte physician who was an Air Force pilot in World War II who engaged in thirty combat missions over Europe. He is a 1947 graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and served as president of the Student Body.

The third one I mention was the most impressive of all and I refer to Colonel Samuel I. Parker of Concord, North Carolina. I do not know his politics but my guess is that it is different from mine. He is a 1917 graduate of UNC, fought in the trenches in France during World War I and earned the Silver Star, Distinguished Service Cross and the Congressional Medal of Honor. He was the first man to receive all three of these awards and he appeared before our Commission and pleaded for the repeal of the Speaker Ban Law.

It is now appropriate that we consider the alternatives to changing this law.

In the first place, the unrest will increase and there is no doubt in my mind that the Communists will be the beneficiaries of the unrest. All of us know that Communism thrives on unrest, turmoil and conflict and it is certain that there is joy in Communist headquarters over the unrest prevailing in North Carolina because of this law. If this law is unchanged, all twelve of the institutions of higher learning supported by the State will suffer. Accrediation or loss of accrediation is merely a factor in this matter. It is well for us that the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools has become domesticated in North Carolina to the end that if litigation should ever become necessary it might be tried here in North Carolina rather than in Georgia. On the other hand, regardless of the outcome of litigation, our schools would suffer as a result of such litigation.

Our University at Chapel Hill has a great history and is destined for an even greater future. North Carolina State University has earned for itself a place of distinction and if unhampered will move on to become one of the greatest institutions in the free world. As a member of the Advisory Budget Commission last summer I visited the State campus and saw great things that I did not know existed in our state, including an atomic reactor. State is attracting noted scholars, scientists and students from all over the world and our efforts should be to help.

East Carolina College and the others, in their own way, are rendering outstanding service and are developing into even greater institutions. More than buildings, grounds and equipment make a college or university. There must be competent faculty and administrators as well as students and we should do nothing to handicap these institutions in reaching their highest potential.

It is to be noted that no other state in the Union has adopted legislation similar to the Speaker Ban Law. Similar bills have been introduced in several other states but were not enacted into law. The last one that I know about was Alabama where the bill passed one House but failed to pass the other. It is doubtful that 'everyone is out of step but Johnny'.

This continued unrest caused by the Speaker Ban Law will have adverse effects other than on education. There is evidence to the effect that it has and will affect the industrial and commercial development of our state.

Now to the bill proposed by the Commission.

The bill is very brief and self-explanatory, therefore I shall not read it. Suffice it to say, it returns the authority for regulating the visiting speakers embraced in the Speaker Ban Law to the Boards of Trustees of the various institutions; but at the same time it also imposes upon these trustees the responsibility to make and publish rules and regulations concerning this matter.

Fellow Members of the General Assembly, on behalf of the Commission which studied this matter long and hard, I urge you to support the bill which we have recommended.

s/ DAVID M. BRITT"

MESSAGE OF THE HONORABLE DAN MOORE

GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA

TO THE EXTRA SESSION

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Raleigh, North Carolina

January 10, 1966

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the General Assembly of North Carolina:

I have called this Extra Session to meet one of the most critical problems ever to confront this legislative body. This action was taken after conferring with the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House, and with the advice and assent of the Council of State.

The United States District Court for the Middle District of North Carolina has declared void and of no effect those provisions of Sections 5 and 6 of Article II of the Constitution of North Carolina, which allocate at least one representative to each county without respect to population. It also declares void General Statutes 163-103, General Statutes 120-1, and General Statutes 120-2 of the General Statutes. This federal court has also prohibited primaries and general elections in 1966 for members of the North Carolina General Assembly and the United States House of Representatives. In its interlocutory order, the court stayed the mandate of its injunction until January 31, 1966, so that this Special Session could deal with the matters of reapportionment of the House, redistricting of the State Senate and realignment of our Congressional Districts.

The court further stated—and I quote the exact language of the order: 'If apportionment compatible to constitutional standards cannot be achieved by that date (January 31), this court will regretfully undertake to fashion a scheme of apportionment which will permit the 1966 primaries and elections to proceed on a just and equitable basis'.

Some people urged me to call an Extra Session last September when the suit, DRUM v SEAWELL, was brought. However, it would have been futile to have called such a Session at that time. Until the court spoke in DRUM v Seawell, the General Assembly was powerless to reapportion our House of Representatives in conformity with what the court now declares to be the law. Before the court decision, the North Carolina Constitution required that each county have at least one representative, and we were bound by that constitutional requirement.

Furthermore, the Assembly already had adopted official policy on this matter during the 1965 Regular Session. That was the first session following the 'one man, one vote' decisions in REYNOLDS v SIMS. In that session, by Joint Resolution No. 60, you joined North Carolina with many of our sister states in requesting the Congress to call a convention for the purpose of amending the United States Constitution to permit states having bicameral legislatures to utilize factors other than population in apportioning at least one House of their legislative bodies.

In all, since 1962, the legislatures of thirty states out of the thirty-three required to obtain a Constitutional Convention officially requested congressional action on the subject of state reapportionment.

So, the North Carolina General Assembly was neither unique nor alone in the position it took in 1965 when it sought to preserve the legislative structure that had served this state so well since the Constitution of 1868.

Only after DRUM V SEAWELL and the adjournment of Congress without action was it apparent that the course most preferred by this General Assembly was no longer available.

I have given you this background so that everyone may understand that there is nothing unusual about the situation in which North Carolina finds itself today. A great majority of the states already have been forced to take action in this area. In view of the decisions of Federal Courts in cases involving these other states, it would have been ill-advised and useless to appeal the decision of the District Court.

As I have stated earlier, I share the feelings of many North Carolinians that our present system of representation, while not perfect, has worked well and for the best interests of our people for nearly a century. However, we are faced with the edict of the court. It leaves us no alternative but to do the best we can to comply.

As you know, the North Carolina Constitution specifies in Article II, Sections 4, 5 and 6, that you shall be responsible for reapportionment of the House and redistricting of the Senate. Certainly the overwhelming majority of North Carolinians prefers that any changes in our General Assembly and in our Congressional Districts be made by our own Legislatures and not by the Federal Court.

On December 6, 1965, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House, and I met to discuss what North Carolina should do in light of the Federal Court Orders. We came to the following conclusions:

First, it was our feeling that an Extra Session should be called for this date;

Second, that the Session should limit itself solely to legislative action designed to comply with the court order:

Third, that, due to the length of time it would take to amend the Constitution, it would not be practical to consider increasing the membership of either the Senate or House at this Session; and

Fourth, due to decisions of the Federal Courts, it was our opinion that it would not be realistic to consider any system of so-called 'weighted' voting.

I still think that these are wise conclusions.

At that time it was also agreed that the Lieutenant Governor would name a committee from the Senate to study in advance the matter of redistricting for membership in that body, and that the Speaker of the House would appoint a committee from the House to consider its apportionment. It was decided that the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker, acting together, would select a joint committee to study the matter of realignment of our Congressional Districts.

I have been pleased and proud of the diligent efforts which all three legislative committees have made in attempting to find reasonable, lawful solutions to the difficult problems posed by the court order. The Office of the Attorney General and my office have been in close touch with the commitees in all of their deliberations. This preliminary groundwork has been accomplished in a genuine atmosphere of teamwork which is in keeping with our heritage of good, representative government. I am confident that your deliberations will be less difficult because of the preliminary work already accomplished by the committees.

Now, the General Assembly of North Carolina must meet head-on the mandate of the Supreme Court of the United States and reapportion both Houses and Congressional Districts in accordance with the 'one man, one vote' decision. You must also make these decisions in compliance with the specific orders of the United States District Court issued on November 30, 1965.

So the hour of decision is here and make no mistake about this—the court will perform the task unless you do so yourselves. For example, in the State of Oklahoma, the Legislature was unable to agree on a plan of reapportionment and so the Federal Court stepped in and reapportioned by judicial decree. It provided a scheme which divided the state into areas of equal population but which cut across both city and county lines.

To allow the Federal Court to assume your legislative responsibility would be an injustice to the people of North Carolina. Our people have chosen you as their lawmakers. They have imposed upon you the responsibility of making legislative decisions. They have expressed their confidence and trust that you are equal to any legislative task. I have every confidence that you will meet this challenge and that you will do what is best for the state as a whole.

I understand and appreciate that the task before you is a legislative problem, both constitutionally and as a practical matter. Therefore, I have not attempted to present specific proposals but I do fully understand and appreciate the task before you.

During the last year, we have faced many difficult challenges. Working together, we have met the challenges and we have met them in the best interest of the State. Your record is one of proud achievement. Once again, you are called upon to find solutions to complicated legislative problems. As you approach this task, I assure you of my continued cooperation and interest. I am confident that you will do the very best you can . . . under very difficult circumstances to agree on solutions that will be in the best interest of All The People of this State!"

STATEMENT BY MEMBER

"I hold in my hand the map of this State which H. B. No. 1 is designed to make as near constitutional as we have been able to determine from the edict which has brought us into special session. This map reminds me of a man who was in a very bad accident and taken to the doctor. When the doctor made his report he said 'The man has been knocked in the head and has two broken legs, but he looks very healthy in the middle.' I appreciate very much the flowers on my desk but what we from the West really need is a wreath. We have the pallbearers and the caskets, but no wreath.

The remarks which I am going to make are not designed to make one popular. However, I feel compelled to speak.

My ancestors and yours fought, bled, and died to obtain the rights and privileges which we have enjoyed until recently.

It is for their sake—and even more for the sake of the rising generation —that I stand before you today.

I have been a loyal and liberal Democrat all my life—born of Democrat parents and grandparents, but I am tired of traveling at high speed down a road which has only left turns.

I have no ill feeling toward any one here. I know that the reapportionment committee worked hard and long on an impossible task to please the Federal District Court. I suppose some part of the State had to be expendable, and I tell you that if you will take a look at this map, you will see that the West was really expended. I have no alternate plan. I merely ask you to consider the direction in which we are heading.

'Quo Vadis?'

Whither Goest Thou?

As we begin our deliberations on H. B. No. 1 to reapportion our Legislature solely on population, I hope that each of us will give solemn thought to what he or she is doing.

I am neither a lawyer or a judge, but I am a teacher and have been a student of history for thirty odd years.

I am told that the Federal District judges have ruled on the reapportionment question consistent with the Supreme Court ruling of 'One man, One vote theory'. They have ruled that certain sections of certain articles of the North Carolina Constitution are invalid. Well my friends, if one part of the North Carolina Constitution which has been in force for lo these many years is suddenly found to be wrong, then perhaps the whole constitution is invalid. How can we possibly know from day to day where we stand? That is, unless we call the Supreme Court and the Federal District Court to find out?

Now, I can understand the need for change at times, but why can't it be done in accordance with the provisions of our Constitution—a way that does not offend the sensibilities of all who love law and justice. This order, which we are given makes a mockery of this august legislative body—a body which was heralded less than a year ago as the greatest legislative body on earth—where even the Governor does not have the power of veto. How powerful are we today?

I say to you, that edicts handed down by Federal Courts which do not allow for an orderly process of law breed irreverance and outright contempt for those courts.

The common people have always wanted laws which they could understand and count on. And right here I think we might pause to review a little history.

Moses gave the Hebrew people the Ten Commandments and they have stood through the centuries as applicable today as when they were written.

In the pagan world the laws were unwritten for a long time. The common man did not know whether he was obeying the law or not.

Finally, Justinian I, ruler of the Eastern Roman Empire from 527 B. C. to 565 B. C., chose ten of the wisest men in his realm to draw up a collection of the Roman laws. It is called the Justinian Code or Body of Civil Law. This body of law is recognized as one of the greatest contributions to civilization.

The Great Charter or Magna Carta has been called 'The Cornerstone of English Liberty'. It marked a beginning of democracy in England. It was wrung by force from King John at Runnymede in 1215 A. D. The principle of 'No taxation without representation' is traced to the Charter as well as many other of our laws today.

I use these examples to show that the common man has struggled for at least 2500 years to gain the rights and privileges embodied in our State and Federal Constitution. Our Federal Constitution has been held up as a model throughout the world. Yet, today the provisions of this Constitution are being so grossly misinterpreted as to sicken even the most liberal individual.

Last February I laid my hand on this Bible and swore to uphold the North Carolina Constitution, and before the last bear in the Great Smokey Mountains has found his den, or the last golden leaf has drifted to the forest floor, I am ordered to recant within 60 days without so much as a please or thank you.

I ask you, my colleagues,

Have we slept away our rights?

Is this Legislature like the great Sampson of the Bible whose strength was in his hair and while he slept, Delilah cut it off, thereby causing his downfall?

When the Supreme Court ruled that school prayers are unconstitutional I was amazed. I thought surely something would be done, but they got away with that edict; and, since then, their appetite has become so whetted they have continued slashing away at the foundations on which this nation was built.

At this point I should like to read Chapter 6, verses 46 through 49 of the Book of Luke. 'Any why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great'.

They may have done away with prayers in school, but I noticed recently when two planes collided in mid-air, and one came in safely that everyone aboard bowed and said a prayer. I wonder if that was constitutional?

Ladies and Gentlemen of the House:

How long shall we continue this role of appeasement?

Shall we rip the North Carolina Constitution from the Great Seal on the front of this building? Shall we blot out the Latin inscription Esse Quam Videri which means: To be rather than to seem?

Shall we discard such great statesmen and patriots as Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry? When this Nation was in the early stages of its development Patrick Henry stood in the House of Burgesses in Virginia and defied the tyranny of the great British Empire. Has the tar been cleansed from our heels and wax applied—the better to run to do the bidding of the Federal Courts?

We are in the throes of a great labor, and, unless something is done, I fear we shall bring forth a monster which shall devour us all.

An ill wind sweeps over this state and nation. Its icy fingers lay hold on your throat and mine. This is not the end—but the beginning.

Ladies and Gentlemen of this House:

'Whither Goest Thou This Day?'

I thank you, Mr. Speaker."

STATEMENT BY MEMBERS

"It is the responsibility of the General Assembly to enact a Senate Redistricting Plan which complies with the 'One man—One vote' standards set out by the United States Supreme Court, in order that the Court not perform this function. The informal policy with regard to House and Senate redistricting legislation is that the House accept the Senate's plan for the Senate, and that the Senate accept the House's plan for the House.

S. B. 3, on which we are now voting, and which is the Senate's plan for redistricting the Senate, has already passed the Senate. However, this plan is grossly unfair to Guilford County, because, although the House plan proposes substantial under-representation for Guilford in the House, the Senate plan proposes to make Guilford the most under-represented county in the entire state in the Senate. For this reason, the Guilford delegation introduced, in the Senate, an alternate plan for redistricting the Senate, which not only corrects this inequity, but also comes closer to meeting the population standards set out by the Federal Courts for redistricting the entire state. Although vigorous efforts were made to enact this alternate plan, these efforts were unsuccessful, and S. B. 3, as originally introduced, was passed by the Senate. It was apparent that the Senate was unwilling to approve any plan other than the one embodied in S. B. 3.

Further, H. B. 1, containing the plan for redistricting the House, has not yet passed the House. An effort to place Guilford County with Randolph County in a House district, though so far unsuccessful, may yet threaten Guilford's House representation, making advisable Guilford's cooperation, where, as in this case, opposition to S. B. 3 would be futile.

For the above reasons, the undersigned, though recognizing the inequity of the Senate redistricting plan with regard to Guilford County, but feeling that this plan, which is the only one which can be enacted, is preferable to redistricting by the Court, vote 'Aye' on S. B. 3."
